SENIOR CLASS PLAY WELL PRESENTED BY CLEVER CAST

'MARY'S MILLIONS' STAGED BY
AMATEURS IN VERY PLEASING
MANNER LAST NIGHT

Playing before a house packed to overflowing the dramatically inclined members of the senior class of the local high school last night distinguished themselves as a group of remarkably talented amateurs when they successfully presented Frederick Johnson's clever three-act comedy, "Mary's Millions."

The entire performance took place without a "hitch," which is quite unusual for high school plays, and many of those present declared that it was one of the best that has been staged in the history of the institution.

The plot of the story is the well-known and popular one in which the country girl suddenly becomes heirless to a vast amount of money, is schemed upon to marry a bogus French count who gains the favor of the girl's proud aunt and guardian, and who is finally prevented from marrying said count by her penniless sweetheart and his friend. The youthful actors presented this often-overdone play in such a novel and unique manner that they would have even enthused the author of the production.

Characters Well Sustained

When the curtain was raised Abbie Doggs, the town constable, fire department, justice of the peace, etc., appeared in a heated argument with Eudora Smith, the village postmistress. These characters were ably represented by Thomas McNary and Edith Hagman. Brigham Bennett, as Jimmie Barnes, a local stock and bond salesman, then appears on the scene, which takes place in the Rocky Hollow postoffice and general store, and engages in the conversation. He soon learns of a young lady of the town who has just come into possession of three million dollars and, with hopes of selling her some of his bonds, he vainly endeavors to learn her name.

Arthur Campbell as Jack Henderson, an unfortunate surveyor and a life-long friend of Barnes, enters the store, and as he is talking with Jimmy Mrs. Mudge, the village gossip and outlandish board friend, rushes in.

Mrs. W. H. Dotson Gives Party For Daughters

A most delightful birthday party was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. H. Dotson, 333 West Harvard street, in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of her daughters, Margaret, aged 6, and Catherine, aged 9. Pink and white carnations decorated the living rooms.

Out-of-door games were enjoyed by the little folks. Later in the afternoon they were entertained by piano solos by Catherine, who played Mozart's "Fantasie in D Minor," and Margaret, who played Bolobink by Krogman, as well as two piano duets, "Evening," duet by Lowe, and "Mermaid's Song from Overton," by Weber. This was followed by a donkey game, after which the children marched into the dining room for refreshments.

The table was centered with a large, oval mirror, on which was a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas in a cut-glass bowl. The color scheme of pink and white was further carried out in the bon bon boxes and candies, as well as the two birthday cakes, candles and ice-cream. At each place was found a toy balloon as a favor. Refreshments also included home-made candies. Both Margaret and Catherine were the recipients of many gifts, which were then opened, amid exclamations of delight from the little folks.

Guests included Margaret Helen Dotson, Catherine Dotson, Martelle McKee, Francis Duryea, Madeline Duryea, Janet Eagen, James Mullen, Mary George, Margaret Barren, Francis Chambers, Rhodora McKee, Beryl Campbell, Alice Leighton, Gabrielle Boudaux, Bettie Webster, Kenneth McLaren, Marie Acton, Wilmoth Acton, Kenneth Acton, Miss Ida Waite, Mrs. Heloise Boudaux, Miss Lillian Brandon, Miss June Hamil and Mr. and Mrs. Dotson.

GUEST OF MRS. W. E. SVANS

Mrs. George W. Selover of East Los Vegas, arrived in Glendale this morning and will be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Evans, 1214 South Mariposa street, for the summer.

TO MAKE HOME IN GLENDALE

Mrs. R. R. Taylor of Grand Rapids, Mich., has decided to make her home in Glendale and is now moving into the residence at 615 South Louise street.

BOARD OF CITY TRUSTEES MAKES STATEMENT TO PUBLIC ON NEEDS OF $26,000 UNDER BOND ISSUE

Money, if Voted, Will Be Used for Warehouse, Garage and Acquiring Land for Purpose of Giving Protection to City's Machinery

The board of city trustees last night approved of a statement prepared by T. W. Watson, city manager, to the voters and taxpayers of Glendale setting forth the necessity for warehouse, garage and other buildings and material yards that are to be constructed and acquired from the proceeds of the $26,000 bond issue should it be authorized at the municipal election to be held on June 28.

The trustees authorized the publication of the statement in booklet form for circulation to the voters, the publication to contain also pictures and a diagram to further enlighten the public as to the needs for the money sought under the bond issue.

The statement to appear in the booklet is as follows:

To the Voters and Taxpayers of the City of Glendale:

The city of Glendale has needed for the past several years a warehouse, garage and other buildings and material yards for the purpose of storing, housing and caring for materials, supplies, motor vehicles, heavy tools, construction implements, machinery and equipment that is used in the city service. The cost of such buildings and the ground necessary therefor and for material yards is estimated at $26,000. This sum is too large to be met from the ordinary revenues of the city in any one fiscal year, therefore a proposition to authorize $26,000 of Glendale municipal bonds to meet the cost of this investment was submitted to the voters of the city on March 29 last, but failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority of the votes cast at that time. This proposition is again submitted believing that the failure to authorize this issue on March 29 last, was largely on account of the voters at that time not having had placed before them full details in regard thereto, also with the belief that if such details are placed before the voters and the necessity for these buildings and material yards realized these bonds will be authorized as a business proposition.

The board of trustees upon receipt of petitions signed by 512 qualified electors of the city of Glendale requesting that this question be again set before you have placed it on the ballot as one of the propositions to be voted on at the general municipal election to be held June 28, 1921. Accordingly, the following statement is issued that you may vote advisedly on this proposition:

The city of Glendale owns and operates in the several divisions of the service twenty-one automobiles and trucks and two motorcycles. These machines represent an original investment of $19,472.31. During the month of March these vehicles were driven 11,571 miles. This includes service as follows:

General supervision of all city service, sanitary inspection, milk inspection, inspection of water supply, scavenger service consisting of gathering and disposing of garbage and waste matter and street cleaning, forestry, police and traffic service, general street repair and resurfacing, street excavations, engineering field work, building inspection, water and light construction, service connections and general maintenance of water and light distributing system and collections.

The cost of operating all of these machines for the same month was $902.51.

From the above it may be readily seen that these autos and trucks represent a large investment and require a considerable sum to cover the cost of operating and maintaining them. It also will be seen that they are indispensable to the rendering of such service as the people of Glendale require of their municipality.

This large number of machines has developed from a small beginning in August, 1913, of two Fords and one Packard truck. At the present rate of growth the city will require 50 per cent increase in the number of these machines within the next two or three years.

No adequate provision has been made for caring for these vehicles. Some are housed in the small garage located at the rear of fire house No. 1, others are housed in the old fire

FEDERATION OF PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS IN ALL-DAY MEETING

Instructive Addresses Are Made by Prominent Speakers at Conference in First M. E. Church

The all day conference of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, the last meeting of the year, opened this morning at the First Methodist church with Mrs. John Robert White, presiding. As a proper opening for such an occasion all members joined in singing "America," Mrs. M. S. Kuehny accompanying at the pipe organ. This was followed by the flag salute, led by the chairman of patriotism, Mrs. William Crawford.

Mrs. White then turned the meeting over to Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentarian of the federation, who in turn placed in charge Mrs. P. S. McNutt, district parliamentarian, who gave a drill in parliamentary usage in connection with reports, dealing with correct forms to be used and acceptance and adoption of reports when presented. Mrs. McNutt was greatly pleased with the interest which the Glendale Federation has shown throughout the year in connection with correct parliamentary usage, classes for this purpose having been conducted during the year.

Mrs. C. H. Toll Talks

Mrs. C. H. Crawford, chairman of education, introduced Mrs. Charles H. Toll, founder of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, who told of "Education Through the Reading Circle." "The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle was founded five years ago. The question probably in the minds of many as to 'Why the Reading Circle?' The reading circle meets every week and for that reason there can be a sustained interest in the work of that body which perhaps an organization which meets only once a month cannot carry on. This close association makes for friendship and understanding and recognition of the talents of the people who are associated in that way," the speaker declared.

"The reading circle is the little sister of the P-T. A. When a person goes to the P-T. A. it is for one of two reasons: Either to come in closer contact with the active interests of the child or in the hopes of getting something of real benefit and help in the rearing of a family properly. When a person goes to the reading circle for help in problems dealing with the home and children that help is always secured," she said.

"One very important feature of the reading circle is that it is a very democratic organization. Women of all kinds and all walks of life are members. Spinsters, mothers and grandmothers all are taking an active interest. No education is valuable except in its practical application. From no less an authority than an Richardson D. White do we have the assurance that a great improvement was seen in the development and deportment of children whose mothers were benefited by attending the circle meetings," she concluded.

Richardson D. White

Mrs. William Crawford, chairman of patriotism, then presented Richardson D. White, who combined the topics of "P-T. A. and Patriotism" in his speech. Mr. White stated that when the P-T. A. was formed the first three letters of patriotism must have been chosen and changed around. Mr. White further stated as follows:

"Patriotism and P-T. A. are so nearly synonymous that it is an easy matter to combine them in a talk. The underlying motive of P-T. A. is patriotism. The nation is dependent upon the home and upon the school for good citizens. They are the two agencies which are going to preserve our good republic. The making of good citizens is up to the parents and the schools, and if that is the foundation of the work of the P-T. A., it is essentially patriotic.

"We are now hearing a great deal about internationalism and about the brotherhood of man. There can be no internationalism, whether it be in the form of a league or association of nations or otherwise, until there is nationalism.

"I believe it is our duty to profess and proclaim our patriotism. The P-T. A. of Glendale should especially take care of impressing the ideals of patriotism upon the children; especially upon those days set apart as patriotic occasions. Let the P-T. A. dedicate itself to the proposition that whenever an opportunity is presented through legal or patriotic holidays to teach the children the meaning of patriotism."

Mrs. W. N. Crawford, chairman of patriotism, gave a synopsis of the history of the flag, and the Girls' Glee club and the Intermediate school orchestra played.

Time For Action On Postoffice, Is Word Wired To Glendale

Dr. Henry R. Harrower has just received a telegram which was sent to Attorney W. E. Evans from Congressman Lineberger which reads as follows:

Petition for separate postoffice for Glendale has not been received. Proposition of enlarging present facilities is being taken up and believe it to be the opportune time to press establishment of independent postoffice. W. F. LINEBERGER.

In view of the fact that June 30 is the end of the official postal fiscal year and that the business of the Glendale postoffice is growing a good deal more rapidly than some people imagine, and also in view of the fact that the authorities in Washington have in mind to extend facilities here, it is agreed that now is indeed an opportune time.

Dr. Harrower has telegraphed to Congressman Lineberger as follows:

Evans hands me your telegram. Signatures on petition almost completed. Evans leaves for Washington next Wednesday and will bring same to you personally in hope that both of you can deliver them to proper authorities at postoffice with some well-chosen words. We thoroughly appreciate your aggressive friendly attitude.

HENRY R. HARROWER, Chairman Postoffice Committee, Glendale Chamber of Commerce, Glendale, Calif.

An attempt will be made to have these petitions available for signature in as many of the clubs and fraternal meetings as possible between now and next Wednesday when Mr. Evans leaves. Patrons of the Glendale postoffice who are heads of families should go out of their way to sign these petitions at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce or any of the banks as soon as possible for several hundred names must be secured before the minimum of 2000 is obtained.

Glendale Children To Appear Upon Program

Many Glendale children will participate in the recital to be presented by Miss Edith Lindsay next Wednesday night, June 15, at the Hollywood Woman's Clubhouse, 7078 Hollywood boulevard.

Marion Stadler will dance a "Butterfly" dance. Barbara Chandler, Dorothy Parker, Gwendolyn Shattuck and Marion Stadler will participate in a "Rose Ballet." Margaret Brown will do a "Gypsy" dance and a "Balloon Fantasy." Little Vera Mercer, Mitzi Chandler, Norma Jean Groton and Evelyn Nolan will dance and also others from the Hollywood classes.

The program will also include dances by the following:

Leonora Mary Bong—"Bluebirds," Mitzi and Barbara Chandler—"Prunella and Pierrot," Sarah Chandler—"Fleur Waltz" and a "Spanish Dance." Victoria Stuart, Marjorie Phillips, Josephine Franklin, Alice Ayars, Isis Lauth, Elaine Johnson, Jean Williams, Peggy Campbell, Barbara Gilman, Ruth Campbell and others will participate in ensemble numbers. Orrel Hester—"Joy," and with Sarah Chandler and Mary Prowell will dance an "Arabian Serenade."

Three Auto Smashups Reported To Police

Three auto smashups reported to the police yesterday and this morning show San Fernando Road to be a dangerous thoroughfare. George Black, proprietor of the Tropic Pharmacy at 1401 South San Fernando Road, was hit broadside by a light truck driven by Leo Lee for the Porter hotel at San Fernando as Mr. Black was turning at the intersection of San Fernando and Los Feliz Roads.

G. W. Todd of 133 West Los Feliz Road and Alfred E. Barker of Los Angeles both reported having fenders smashed while driving on San Fernando Road. The names of drivers of the other machines are unknown.

Committee To Make Its Report Tonight

A report of the committee that waited on the officials of the Pacific Electric Railway company with a view to getting the co-operation of them in lowering the tracks south of Colorado boulevard will be one of the features of the Brand Boulevard Improvement association's meeting tonight in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, 115 West Broadway, at 7:45 o'clock.

A report of the committee on the purposes and aims of the association also will be made and permanent officers will be elected, according to Mattison B. Jones, president of the temporary organization. All citizens interested in the improvement of Brand boulevard are invited.

Today's World News In Brief (By United Press to Glendale Evening News)

MAJ. HAYNES APPOINTED PROHIBITION COMMISSIONER
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Appointment of Major Roy Haines, Hillsboro, Ohio, as prohibition commissioner, was announced at the White House today.

STEEL CORPORATION SHOWS UNFILLED DECREASE
NEW YORK, June 10.—The monthly statements of the United States Steel Corporation today showed a decrease in unfilled orders of 362,762. The unfilled tonnage totaled 5,482,487 on May 31, against 5,845,224 on April 30; 6,242,765 on March 31, and 10,940,466 on May 31, 1920.

ORDERS RELEASE OF NINETEEN I. W. W. PRISONERS
KANSAS CITY, June 10.—Orders for unconditional release of nineteen I. W. W. prisoners, said to be mostly from Kansas, and now serving terms in the Leavenworth federal prison were received by Frederick Roberts, federal district attorney for Kansas, from Attorney General Daugherty today, it was announced.

WOMAN IS KILLED IN FALL FROM THIRTEENTH STORY
CHICAGO, June 10.—Miss Alice R. Murphy, thirty-seven, was instantly killed today when she plunged or fell from the thirteenth floor of the Stock Exchange building. She crashed through the skylight of an office building on the fourth floor. Police could not determine whether the fall was accidental or with suicidal intent.

GREEK STEAMER SINKS WITH 138 PASSENGERS ABOARD
ATHENS, June 10.—The Greek steamer Boubolina has gone down with 138 passengers, according to dispatches here today. The Boubolina, enroute from Smyrna, struck a rock and went down so quickly that only two lives were saved. The vessel carried many soldiers from Smyrna in addition to civilian passengers. The Boubolina was a 3313-ton iron vessel built in 1878.

BONUS BILL IS DEAD; COMPENSATION BILL TO BE LAW
WASHINGTON, June 10.—The "soldiers' bonus bill" is dead. The soldiers' "adjusted compensation" bill is very much alive and likely to soon become a law. Senator McCumber of North Dakota, chairman of the senate sub-committee, which worked out the provisions of the bills, issued an appeal today for the use of the new name. "It is not a bonus or a gift to the ex-service men," declared McCumber. It's distinctly a bill to pay the veterans of the world war for their services to the nation and for the sacrifices they made to serve."

MEXICAN OIL SHARES SHOW FIRMER TONE ON EXCHANGE
NEW YORK, June 10.—Following reports on Wall Street that Mexico is willing to sign a treaty with the United States under certain conditions, Mexican oil shares showed a somewhat firmer tone. Mexican Petroleum opened at 140, up 3/4, and then ran up 3/4 more. Pan-American got as high as 53 1/2, up 1 1/2 net. Pacific Oil however, was off 3/4 at 34 3/4, despite declaration of an individual dividend of $1.50 a share. Crucible, which was off 1/2 at the opening price of 61, quickly rallied a full point. Steel common shortly after the opening, sold at 77.

SIMS DECLARES HE IS GOING TO KEEP ON TALKING
LONDON, June 10.—"The peace and progress of the world depend on the co-operation of the English speaking people," Admiral W. S. Sims told the American luncheon club here today. "If that is objectionable," he added, "make the best of it." Sims declared his anti-Sinn Fein talk before the English speaking union was the same thing he had said in numerous lectures in America. "I intend to keep on doing the same thing," he declared. Sims refused to make public his reply to Secretary Denby's query as to whether he had been correctly quoted.

SENATORIAL INVESTIGATION OF SIMS BEING HELD UP
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Senatorial investigation of Admiral William S. Sims' Irish speech in London, probably will await Sims' report to Secretary of the Navy Denby, in response to his superior's request for an explanation, members of the committee said today. They were inclined not to regard seriously Senator Harrison's investigation resolution adopted yesterday. Nothing can be done by the committee that Denby has not already done in cabling Sims to report whether he was correctly quoted in dispatches from London, Senator Poindexter, acting chairman, pointed out.

C. M. LUND, ONE OF PIONEERS HERE, IS DEAD AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Established First Blacksmith Shop in City; Also Entered Other Business; Funeral Not Set

C. M. Lund, aged 60, died at Glendale Home, 250 North Verdugo Road, this morning after a brief illness. He was one of Glendale's pioneer residents, coming here in 1892. He established the first blacksmith in the village which then centered about Wilson and Glendale avenue. He owned a country home on Kenneth Road for many years.

After successfully conducting the Glendale Implement company for more than a score of years, he retired from the business which he turned over to his son, C. R. Lund, and went to Victor Valley where he lived on a ranch near Adelanto. About a month ago he returned to Glendale in failing health.

Mr. Lund was a member of the Lutheran church and ranked high in the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, being a member of the canton in Orange Grove Encampment of Los Angeles. He leaves to survive him, the widow and three children, Mrs. Arlie Gilhousen of El Centro, Mrs.

Miss Alice Roberts Hostess To Sorority

Miss Alice Roberts of 509 West Milford street entertained the alumni members of the Eta chapter, Sigma Tau Psi Sorority, at her home Thursday, there being twenty present. Final plans were made for a card party and fair to be given at the home of Mrs. Lucy Hauerwass, 3805 West 29th street, Los Angeles, next Saturday, for the benefit of the disabled soldiers. Many artistic and useful articles, including a handsome floor lamp, will be disposed of at the fair.

SELECT TEAMS FOR CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH DRIVE

OUTLINE DETAILS OF PROJECT
AT DINNER; SUM OF $60,000
CONGREGATION'S GOAL

In order that more definite plans might be made regarding the financing and construction of a new church, the members of the First Congregational church of Glendale attended the dinner given last night in the church building. The Ladies' Auxiliary prepared and served the delicious dinner, which was served at 6:45 o'clock and was followed by a very interesting program.

The meeting was opened by prayer offered by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, the pastor.

Blake Franklin, chairman of the building committee, then gave a very interesting talk, explaining how, at first, they felt that $20,000 was the most they could possibly spend for a new church building, but now they have raised it to $60,000 after consulting the architect, and although some may feel that this enterprise is only begun, Mr. Franklin stated that he felt that it was very far advanced. He felt that there would be no real difficulty in raising this money if everyone did his part, and gave a reasonable amount of effort. He then explained the three-year plan of payment which will make it much easier to raise the money. Rev. Calderwood stated that Mr. Franklin's plans were like a crying baby in a church—they ought to be carried out.

Architect Is Speaker

The next speaker was Carlton Monroe Winslow, the architect in charge of the new building. Mr. Winslow was the architect in charge of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Diego. He gave a very interesting history of the Congregational church from the first one at Plymouth Rock to the present day. He told how the first one was made of hewn logs and had only benches, with no provision for the choir or Sunday school. Then in the seventeenth century they became aware of the need of bigger and better churches, and they were made more beautiful to attract the people to them. Then in the eighteenth century they built on the extra rooms for the Sunday school children and all the time the churches were increasing in beauty.

He explained the architecture of their proposed new church and stated that it would show signs of welcome on the inside as well as on the outside.

Conference Head Spokes

Rev. George F. Kengott, superintendent of the Southern California Congregational conference, spoke, complimenting the congregation and insisted upon remembering the Sunday school children in building this church. For if the children are there, the parents are bound to be. There should be a choir for the children and for the young people as well.

It was his belief that the raising of this building should be for them a great means of grace that

Boy Scouts' Meeting Is Held Last Night

Nathan Rigdon, Frank C. Ayers, C. L. Chandler, F. E. Wilkinson, A. T. Cowan, C. C. Cooper, Howard Walker, Roy L. Kent attended the regular council meeting of the Glendale Boy Scouts held in Roy L. Kent's office, 130 South Brand boulevard last evening.

C. L. Chandler presided and Roy L. Kent served as secretary. They voted to give Scout Master J. Benjamin Robison leave of absence from June 21 to July 4, that he may keep a former agreement with a Pasadena troop, and lead them in a two week's outing, the latter part of June and the first of July.

Messrs. Rigdon and Wilkinson were appointed a committee to confer with Mr. Robison in superintending an outing for the Scouts in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Evans Inspect New Residence

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Evans of 914 Randolph street spent Thursday visiting friends in Hollywood and also inspecting their future home in that city. The abode, which will be an elegant mansion of the Spanish type, will be one of the most novel and unique residences in southern California. The cost of the house is estimated at $15,000 and will contain every modern convenience known to architecture. Mr. and Mrs. Evans intend to move into it about the first of July.

daughter, Miss Leone Shattuck of 114 West Broadway, were the dinner guests last night of friends in Eagle Rock.

Mrs. James Farrell, formerly of 1123 East Broadway, but recently of the Atwater district, was a caller on friends in her old neighborhood this week.

Miss Mayme Lee Evans of London, Kentucky, is the guest for the summer at the home of her brother, Mr.
and Mrs. W. E. Evans of 333 North Orange street.

Mrs. Margery Hadley of 1109 East Broadway celebrated her seventieth birthday on Wednesday of this week.
Her daughter, Mrs. Mattie Phillips, entertained her at a dinner in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bauer and Mrs.
R. R. Munger of Pasadena were guests last evening of Mr. and Mrs.
William A. Howe of 317 West Patterson avenue at dinner and later attended the Glendale Theatre.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chase of 239 North Orange street entertained as their dinner guests Wednesday night
Miss Dulcie Hall of New York City
and Mr. Browning, also of New York City.

Mrs. F. C. Weller of 310 East Wilson avenue, who was taken ill very suddenly last Saturday and taken to the Glendale Research Hospital, is now at home again and is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Virginia Freeman is singing
"My Maryland," from which the musical theme for "The Heart of Maryland," now playing at the Glendale Theatre, is taken. Recently she was soloist at this popular theatre.

Members of Chapter L. P. E. O., which met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 347 North Brand boulevard, were pleased to have with them Mrs. Neel, who has been quite ill during the past year
and has not been able to attend meetings regularly.

Louise Stocker, manager of the C & S Cafeteria, will leave July 1 for an extended trip through the east and middle west. She will visit her old home place at St. Joseph, Missouri, also Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake, Wyoming and San Francisco.
During her absence her daughter, Mrs. Steward, will have charge of the cafeteria. Mrs. Stocker will return sometime in September.

Locals And Personals

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hill and children of Santa Ana were guests recently of Mrs. Hill's mother, Mrs. E. Moody of 320 North Maryland avenue.

have been visiting at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H.
Webster of 1020 South Central avenue, have returned to their home in Needles.

The B8 class of the Cerritos avenue school will entertain the A8
class at a party on Friday night,
June 10, at the home of Mrs. C. M.
Rich, 1214 South Glendale avenue.
They are anticipating a very good time.

Mrs. A. N. Bryant of 1013 East
Lomita avenue, who has been confined at the Glendale Sanitarium for the past few weeks, was taken yesterday to Murietta Hot Springs, where she will take a course of treatment for her rheumatism.

Mrs. J. C. Garver of Denver, Colorado, who is the guest for the summer of her son and daughter-in-law,
Mr. and Mrs. John White Garver of 528 North Maryland avenue, is visiting friends in Pasadena for a few days.

Frank L. McGillis of 1003 East Lomita avenue is confined to his home with a slight attack of the ever-prevalent "la grippe." He will return to his studies at the University of Southern California Monday,
however, as final term examinations
are scheduled for all of next week.

Miss Regina Townsend of 807 North Brand boulevard has been attending the Girls' Collegiate school
at Los Angeles and has just returned to her home for the summer. She has as her house guest for the weekend Miss Ann Cunningham of Pasadena.

A dog belonging to C. F. Steppler of 404 Ivy street was shot this morning and its head sent to laboratories
in Los Angeles, it being the belief of officers that the animal was suffering from rabies. It was bitten by a dog owned by John O. Elliott which already had been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kitt of 449
Pioneer Drive, accompanied by Mrs.
day by motor for Oakland, California, where they will visit Mr.
Kitt's mother, Mrs. Loan. Mr. and Mrs. Kitt expect to be gone about 10 days, but Mrs. Thomas will remain in the bay city for several months.

their house guest, Miss Katherine Adams of St. Joseph, Missouri, and Mrs. Leroy Bosserman.

Mr. and Mrs. John Corder of Lemoore, California, stopped for a short visit with friends in Glendale
last evening. They are on their way to Glendora where Mrs. Corder's mother lives. In about two weeks
they are going on a trip to Denver, Colorado, and upon their return to California expect to locate in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leaming of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Ella Leaming of La Porte, Indiana, who have been spending the winter in California and were house guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bosserman of 614 South Central avenue, left by automobile for their home in the east. They will stop for several days at the Grand Canyon. The return trip it is expected will cover
about two months.

Miss Viola Sayre, miniature painter, of 914 South Central avenue, has been spending the winter in the east and she reports having a very wonderful time. Just recently she took a trip up in the New Hampshire hills and her parents state that she sent home a gallon of real, old-fashioned maple syrup, which they enjoyed immensely. She will go to New York and Cleveland for a short visit and is expected home in about a month.

Honor Pins Awarded At High School Today

At two assemblies at the high school today honor pins and activity pins were awarded to the list given exclusively in the Glendale Evening News last night. There were a great many of the parents present and the assembly proved to be one of the greatest interest. Esther Black and Philip Begue were added to those getting special activity pins.

La Crescenta Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Critz of Chicago are among the recent arrivals
at the "Valley View Inn."

Joe Thomson of Los Angeles visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Thomson
during the last week.

Miss Helen Washington of Montrose left last week for a two month visit to New York.

The missionary society of the Presbyterian church had an all day meeting at Genrose park last Friday.
After the business meeting luncheon was served. One of the most enjoyable features of the day was a talk on Japan by Mrs. E. Stine.

Montrose will soon have a garage and vulcanizing plant. O. D. Waddy will build on Honolulu near Montrose and open a garage and Allan Rodgers of Mechanicsburg, Penn., has purchased a lot on Montrose avenue near Honolulu and will erect a building in which he will conduct a vulcanizing plant.

Mrs. Mattie L. Gray of Phoenix, Ariz., was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Czerniski last week. Mr. and Mrs. Czerniski also entertained with a charmingly appointed Mexican supper one evening last week.
Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Holbrook and Leslie Holbrook of San Francisco, Miss Vera Anderson of Oakland, and Mr. C. E.
Culberson, Miss Janet Culberson and Dean Culberson.

Mrs. Seymour Thomas was hostess to the La Crescenta Women's club
and their friends at her attractive home, "Cuddle Deon," last Wednesday afternoon. It was one of the largest and most enjoyable affairs of the season. The business meeting convened at 2:30 o'clock. The president, Mrs. C. E. Culberson, gave an interesting review of the year's work and the growth of the club. Twenty-four new members have been taken in in the past month. The most important business transacted was the installation of the officers for the ensuing year:

Mrs. Fred Anderson, president;
Mrs. Seymour Thomas, first vice president; Mrs. S. B. Young, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Turk, third vice president; Mrs. W. An-glen, fourth vice president; Mrs. M.
S. Collins, recording secretary; Mrs.
N. S. Wildhack, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. N. Nettleton, treasurer; Mrs. H. Reynolds, chairman of program committee; Mrs. F.
K. Czerniski, chairman of emergency committee; Mrs. C. Peck, chairman of auditing committee. The afternoon closed with a reception to the new members. Mrs. Thomas was assisted by Mesdames George Dunlop, J. S. Conlin, L. Bertram, T.
Minford, S. Goddard, R. Wildhack,
E. Fritt, N. A. Phillips, Mrs. G. Peck and Mrs. E. N. Nettleton poured.
Mrs. S. Young presided at the punch bowl. One of the greatest pleasures of the afternoon was the privilege of visiting Mr. Thomas' studio. The club is planning a number of delightful social affairs for the summer. The first, a tea at the home of Mrs. E. T. Leuntzel, June 28, at her home in Montrose. This tea will be given by the members of the club
who live in Montrose, Mesdames F.
H. Anderson, E. Fritt, N. A. Brown,
O. E. Dodds and Mrs. T. O. Potts.

Destruction Of Signs To Cause Prosecution

Real estate men placing signs on vacant property report that hundreds of dollars are lost monthly through the work of vandals who take pleasure in destroying things. Several signs are reported "down" or missing
daily in each local office and many others are broken beyond repair before they can be located.

Parents and children probably do not realize the fact that each sign costs several dollars and when boys throw rocks at them, uproot them or deface the realtor's advertisement, it not only spoils the possibility of a sale, but represents a financial loss which mounts high during a year.

Charles B. Guthrie, who operates quite extensively throughout the city, declares that the annoyance has reached the point where anyone found moving, defacing or destroying his real estate signs will be prosecuted to the full limit and he will pay $10 reward leading to the miscreants' arrest and conviction.

South Glendale Gets Another Fire Fighter

Residents of South Glendale are assured of increased protection against fire as the result of a suggestion made to the Board of City Trustees last night by Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the board, who urged that another fireman be stationed at fire house
No. 2, Brand boulevard and Los Feliz Road.

President Stephenson pointed out that under the salary ordinance recently passed by the board provision is made for another fireman. He urged that the fire fighter be stationed at the South Glendale house, explaining that at present there are but two men on duty regularly—and not at the same time.

"I consider that inadequate protection to the residents of the southern portion of the city," declared President Stephenson, "and now that the ordinance recently adopted permits employment of another fireman,
I ask that he be stationed at the Brand and Los Feliz house just as soon as the ordinance goes into effect. When a fire breaks out the element of time is of the greatest importance and another man on duty
would certainly prove of value."

As the result of President Stephenson's statement, Trustee Bartlett made a motion, seconded by Trustee Robinson, that the extra man permitted under the ordinance be given to the southern section of the city, the motion prevailing unanimously.

Seeks Revolving Fund To Finance New Mains

The following report by T. W.
Watson, city manager, in regard to applications of property holders seeking four inch pipe lines was read at the meeting of the board of city trustees last night and referred to the committee of the whole for consideration:

"In response to application of property holders, proceedings are being prepared that will call for the laying of considerable four inch cast iron pipe and fittings and inasmuch as it will require considerable time for pipe to arrive from the east where it is manufactured, I would respectfully recommend that the clerk be authorized to publish notice that sealed proposals will be received by your board until 8 o'clock Thursday evening, June 30, 1921, for furnishing one carload of four inch class B
cast iron pipe and five tons of class
B fittings, pipe and fittings to conform to the specifications of the American Water Works association.

"I would further respectfully recommend that $5000 be appropriated from the proceeds of the $260,000
water bond issue as a revolving fund to cover the cost of the pipe and fittings as above recommended with the understanding that such fund will be reimbursed for the cost of all cast iron pipe and fittings purchased under this order as the same is used in accordance with policy established by city for payment of service mains."

'LEFTY' HERMAN IS BEING SOUGHT BY NEW YORK TEAM

AMERICAN LEAGUE CLUB IS AFTER GLENDALE YOUTH, HIS FRIENDS LEARN

The name of Floyd "Lefty" Herman, the elongated Glendale High school, all-around athlete, promises soon to become as well known and popular throughout the country as that of "Babe" Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Charley Paddock and other prominent athletes of national renown, his friends say.

The latest achievement credited to the rapidly approaching famous "Lefty" was reported in Glendale yesterday when it was learned that the management of the New York American League baseball team had made an offer for Herman's services. He is now a member of the Edmonton club of the Western Canadian League, of which Gus Gleichman is manager.

First Professional Season
Young Herman is just 18 years old, this season being his first in professional baseball. During last winter he played on several southern California semi-pro teams, and it was here that Gleichman picked him out as a coming star and immediately signed him up to play with the Edmonton squad. The offer of the New York Yankees is sufficient proof that the local lad has "made good" much faster than any of his staunch admirers even hoped for.

It is unnecessary for Glendale readers to be told again of the wonderful athletic ability of this youthful diamond hero, as his extraordinary feats of the past few years are familiar to all local sport followers. His friends only wish that he will continue his present good work.

WIDENING OF BRAND AT SAN FERNANDO IS CONSIDERED

BOARD OF CITY TRUSTEES IS GIVEN COMPLETE REPORT ON TWO PROPOSITIONS

Proceedings for the widening of Brand boulevard at the San Fernando road were reported on at the meeting of the board of city trustees last night by T. W. Watson, city manager. The report was, at the suggestion of Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the board, referred to the committee of the whole and, in the meantime, the city manager requested to furnish each member of the board with a copy of the report.

The report of the city manager is given in full, as follows:
By T. W. WATSON,
City Manager of Glendale.

In regard to proceedings for the widening of Brand boulevard at San Fernando road as contemplated under ordinance No. 432 of which we reported under date of May 25 setting forth proposition of H. E. White and parties interested in property at this location to dedicate ground for widening of Brand boulevard on lines that would require the taking of less ground but that would permit of widening the entrance to Brand boulevard in a substantial and satisfactory manner:

Pursuant to verbal instructions of your board, I have prepared and present herewith estimate of cost of acquiring the necessary ground and improving this intersection as planned under present opening and widening proceedings and and subsequent improvement proceedings, also cost of this improvement as contemplated under compromise plan. Costs under present proceedings are set forth herewith under Proposition No. 1; costs under compromise plan are set forth under Proposition No. 2.

Proposition No. 1
First—Legal proceedings complete, $350.

Second—Cost of land to be taken (Note, ground required under proposition No. 1 was appraised by committee of two appointed by secretary of Chamber of Commerce and city engineer) $2500.

Third—Cost of street improvement, $5800.

Total, $9650.

Fourth—Cost to property in assessment district on the basis of a uniform assessment throughout the entire district including the property of Mr. White at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road would be on the above estimate of cost per fifty foot lot, $32.36.

Proposition No. 2
First—Cost of street improvement under compromise plan (Note, under this plan there would be no cost for opening and widening proceedings or for ground to be taken), $6300.

Second—Cost to property in assessment district based on a uniform assessment as in Proposition No. 1 excluding therefrom any assessment on property at northeast corner of San Fernando road and Brand boulevard would be per fifty foot lot, $22.75.

Under compromise plan property holders within the assessment district would pay $9.61 less for the completed improvement than they would be called upon to pay under the plan contemplated by present proceedings with the additional advantage that the improvement under the compromise plan could probably be completed within six months, whereas it would take at least a year and a half under Proposition No. 1.

I have also compared the cost as between Propositions No. 1 and 2, eliminating from the cost under Proposition No. 1 the cost of ground to be acquired and there is still a difference of $1.25 per assessment on fifty foot lot in favor of the compromise plan.

This is set forth merely to indicate that should the value of land to be taken be fixed at a less figure by court appraisers than estimated herein, Proposition No. 2 would cost less than Proposition No. 1.

This proposed improvement consists of, first, the extension of the present storm drain culverts about 120 feet north from their present north terminus at the south side of Forest avenue, and of reinforcing that portion which is now under the sidewalk between Forest avenue and San Fernando road; second, building new curbs and sidewalks along the east side of the new roadway, and, third, grading and paving the new road together with the raising of the grade of the north half of San Fernando road and the east drive of Brand boulevard and the repaving of the same to a point about sixty feet north of the north line of Forest avenue.

Mr. White's proposition is that he will dedicate the necessary ground for this improvement along the lines of plans submitted on May 12 at no cost to the city, provided that his property at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road be relieved of assessment on account of improvements as set forth above.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES INDORSES AMERICAN LEGION'S BENEFIT

Official indorsement of the entertainment to be given by Glendale Post 127, American Legion, on June 15, for disabled war veterans in this locality, was recorded by the Board of City Trustees last night.

Action was taken at the suggestion of Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the board, who called attention to the benefit entertainment and urged that official recognition be given by the trustees. On motion of Trustee Henry the following resolution, drafted by President Stephenson, was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Glendale Post 127, American Legion is to present an entertainment on the 15th day of June, 1921, for the purpose of acquiring funds for the benefit of their disabled buddies in this locality, and

WHEREAS, The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale wishes to go on record as heartily approving the object and aim of said Glendale Post, No. 127, American Legion.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale is in entire sympathy with said object of the Glendale Post, No. 127, American Legion, and its efforts in behalf of the disabled veterans of our community; and be it

FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of this resolution be spread upon our minutes and that it be published in our local papers and a copy sent to Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion.

CHORUS REHEARSALS FOR CONVENTION ARE UNDER WAY

MUCH INTEREST IS DISPLAYED
BY SINGERS; SCHEDULE OF MEETINGS ANNOUNCED

Rehearsals for the Christian Endeavor Convention chorus are progressing splendidly. Fifty of the 111, who have signed up for chorus work, attended the rehearsal Tuesday night. Robert Maile of Los Angeles was in charge, with Mrs. Spencer Robinson at the piano.

Much interest is being shown in this part of the convention program. One anthem is being rehearsed for each evening, the names of the various ones being "By Babylon's Wave" (Gounod), "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" (Shelley), "Seek Ye the Lord" (Roberts), "King of Glory" (Coleridge Taylor), and "Break Forth Into Joy" (Simper).

Membership by Invitation

Membership in the chorus is by invitation only. Each church in Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank is co-operating, as is also the Glendale Music club and the Burbank Choral club. Those who attend three rehearsals are entitled to a badge, with the exception of the Burbank Choral club, which is working on the songs to be used. Members of that club will be entitled to the badge upon attending two rehearsals.

Following is the schedule of time and place of the remaining meetings:
Tuesday, June 14, Central Christian church, Colorado and Louise streets.

Thursday, June 16, First Presbyterian church, Cedar and Broadway.

Tuesday, June 21, Central Christian church, Colorado and Louise streets.

Thursday, June 23, Convention auditorium, Harvard and Orange streets.

The last rehearsal at the auditorium will be the final practice, and one might say "dress rehearsal," as all chorus members will get their badges and be assigned places.

Italian Students Will Visit Mother Country

By HENRY WOOD

United Press Staff Correspondent
ROME—Beginning this year with students from the United States, Italy will inaugurate a system of educational exchange which later will be extended to Brazil, Argentine and other South American countries.

Two different projects will be put into operation this summer both tending to increase educational relations between Italy and foreign countries.

The first of these projects will be a series of visits to Italy of Italian students from the United States, consisting largely of those who have been born there of Italian parents or who went to the U. S. quite young with their emigrating parents, and who as a consequence know little about their native country.

This project which was worked out by Ambassador Lalandi-Ricci, who secured for it the financial support of the leading Italian banks. These institutions have furnished the funds necessary for inaugurating and carrying out the project. A correct speaking and writing knowledge of Italian is required from all student applicants, as one of the objects of the project is to encourage Italian emigrants in foreign countries to instruct their children in their native language. All of the parties will be taken to the leading historical, intellectual, art and industrial centers of Italy.

While for the moment the project applies only to the United States its backers hope eventually to have it extended to all of the South American countries where there are large Italian colonies.

The second project for increasing Italy's educational relations with foreign countries and especially with North and South America is being carried out under the auspices of the Minister of Education.

It provides for the institution of summer university courses for foreign students, much along the same line as those maintained in France at Grenoble. For the present these will be installed at the University of Naples. They will enable all foreign students during their summer vacations to employ profitably their time in following the best courses that the Italian universities have to offer.

Lack Of Attire Upon Bathers Causes Protest

TURLOCK—Those Apollos who have been wont in the past to display their manly forms at the "old swimming hole" while getting ready to take a dip, have received a severe blow. Several agitated females recently went to the mayor, asking him to censor the bathers' lack of attire. The mayor judiciously investigated, and as a result took the matter up with City Marshal Burton, who issued an edict that the Apollos must not "hang their clothes on a hickory limb" so conspicuously.

Seek Special Rate To Ship Fruit By Boat

SEATTLE, Wash., June 10.—Representatives of the Pacific Coast Producers' association, formed on Wednesday by representatives of fruit growers in Washington, Oregon and California, with a total production of 57,000,000 boxes annually, were today negotiating with inter-coastal steamship companies for a rate of not to exceed 90 cents a box for refrigeration space from Pacific to Atlantic ports. C. S. Whitcomb of Los Angeles, president of the association, said he expects that a fair rate will be secured.

In addition to electing Whitcomb as association president, J. H. Wade of Wenatchee was made president of the deciduous branch and a vice president of the association; C. Devere Fairchild of Yakima, will be secretary treasurer and the directors at large will be H. F. Davidson of Hood River, Ore., and C. I. Lewis of Salem, Ore.

The California bodies interested in the association will elect similar officers and there will be bureaus in the various fruit producing sections, with Whitcomb the directing head of all.

Tentative steps have been taken to supplement the association's prime object—to get the movement of fruit by water—by consideration of an export trading corporation, under terms of the Webb act, to extend markets for western fruits in foreign markets. C. I. Lewis of Salem, Ore., is entrusted with the preliminary details.

The fruit growers today told Seattle business men that the fruit industry is being strangled by high rail rates and that the railroads have refused to give emergency assistance, as was done with the lumber industries, because growers had not taken advantage of competitive water routes and forced reduction. Port officials here were notified that they can expect four thousand carloads of apples for trans-shipment this season. Steamship companies were pledged an additional 6000 carloads of California fruits.

Thursday delegates inspected public terminals here. The committee's survey said that Seattle was the best equipped port in the nation to store great quantities of fruit—one cold storage plant where rail meets sail—can house 20,000 tons of apples and there are additional cooling spaces in other public and private warehouses, exclusive of fish freezing sections where 4,000,000 pounds are frozen.

Chinese Cook Lives Up To Name And Goes

BERKELEY, June 10.—Ah Go Way was a Chinese cook for a sorority house in Berkeley. Ah Go Way was a good and a highly respected cook, but he suddenly decided to live up to his name, and went away.

The sorority girls mourned the loss of a good cook and tried their own intelligent hands in the kitchen, without, rumor hath it, any great success. Then a few days later someone discovered that when Ah Go Way went away, he took the back door key with him. The key had been attached to a heavy chain.

It looked queer to the girls, and by evening the incident had grown to large proportions. Hence taxis were hastily summoned, and a few minutes later a bevy of beautiful girls dashed into the police station and asked Police Officer Henry C. Hoar to keep their jewels and valuables for them at the police station until morning.

They also asked him to see what he could do about the door. They had never thought anything, they said, of leaving the key always beside the back door while Ah Go Way was there. They didn't want anyone to lose the key so that a girl "queening" late couldn't sneak in the back way. But when Ah took the manacled key—Ah was looked at in a different light. The officer went to the sorority and boarded up the back door. The girls heaved a sigh of relief, but still, they would feel better, they say, if Ah's name was "Ah Stay Away" instead of Ah Go Way. But Ah is apparently a good Chinaman, for he hasn't been seen around the place since, and nothing is missing.

Chinaman, Survivor Of Custer Massacre, Dies

SITKA, Alaska—George Gee, Chinese, former army cook, who was one of the few survivors of the Custer massacre, died here recently. Because of Gee's military services, the Sitka post of the American legion conducted the old Chinaman's funeral.

Records show that Gee, after serving the army, was a cook in the navy twenty years. He came to Alaska several years ago. Gee, telling of the Custer massacre, said he escaped death because the general had detailed him to look after the baggage of the command.

Small Claims Measure Is Signed By Governor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The small litigant is getting to the point where his breath comes easier, and his heart has less tendency to miss a beat or two occasionally when in the presence of the "big fellow."

And all this is brought about by the signing of the Rosenshine small claims court bill. The bill goes into effect two days after signing by the governor.

In effect, the bill makes litigation simpler and easier for the little fellow. It also provides that the four justice courts of San Francisco at the city hall shall be made into small claims courts.

Those with claims of less than $50 may go to one of these courts and ask for a complaint. The justice draws up the form, thus eliminating the necessity of a lawyer. Without fee or other red tape, a date is set for a hearing, not less than five days nor more than fifteen days after the complaint is issued and the defendant is cited to bring in his books and prepare defense. There are no delays, no pleadings, and no lawyers.

The best part of the whole law is that the little fellow who loses can pay the claim on the installment plan, at as low a rate as $2 a week, if necessary. Hardships are thus removed from the shoulders of both plaintiff and defendant.

GLENDALE RESEARCH HOSPITAL GAINS QUICK SUCCESS

ABOUT SEVENTY CASES TAKEN AND FIFTY OF THESE ARE SURGICAL; NO DEATHS

From its opening day more than a month ago the Glendale Research Hospital, situated in sequestered Piedmont park, has been self-sustaining, an unusual record for such an institution, according to its officers. It was locally organized and the stock issue which put over the project was taken up locally. It is an instance of such ventures making good the promises of the promoters. There have been approximately seventy cases received within its doors in this short period, of which more than fifty were surgical, eight maternity and several emergency, etc. So far, the institution boasts of no deaths and hopes to hold that record to a minimum during the many years to come.

Finds Favor with Doctors.
The surgery wards and operating rooms with their superb equipment are said to be finding favor with many local doctors while Burbank and Los Angeles furnish many of the patients. In these few short weeks that it has been open, the hospital has been put in excellent working order and to visitors and patients alike, it has the feeling of "home-ness" and comfort that is conducive to the recuperation of the sick.

Suggest Harding End 'War' By Proclamation

WASHINGTON, June 10. — The suggestion that President Harding end the controversy between the house and senate over the form of the resolution restoring peace with Germany, by issuing an executive proclamation declaring the war ended, is being entertained by some legislative "best minds" who do not relish the hickering over the matter in congress.

If Harding, without waiting for congress to settle the squabble as to whether the Knox resolution of the senate or the Porter resolution of the house is better, would take matters into his own hands he would be acting entirely within his constitutional powers, it is contended.

Congress could legislatively back him up later, it is pointed out, by adopting a resolution embodying the language of his proclamation.

Every day that passes without action on the peace resolution bears in upon republican leaders the fact that the delay is becoming more and more a matter of comment and criticism throughout the country.

Social Gathering at Dr. Kaemmerling Home

A very delightful affair was given Wednesday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. Kaemmerling of 340 North Orange street. The house was very beautifully decorated in deep pink brambler roses and ferns.

The guests included Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Teel, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Bucher, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles, Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Dietrich, Dr. and Mrs. Swift, Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer and their house guests, Miss Loomis and Mrs. Newall, Dr. Bobitt and Dr. Thompson.

A very pleasing program had been arranged which included a talk by Dr. Bucher on Russia. Dr. Bucher has spent a great deal of time in Russia with the Red Cross and his talk was, indeed, very interesting.

There were two numbers by pupils of Mrs. Pearl Kellar, one a dance and song by Gould Moore and the other a dance by Julia Pelley. Miss Loomis sang and she was accompanied by Mrs. Dr. Boyer. A song and whistling solo were rendered by Mrs. Kaemmerling.

After the program a very delicious luncheon was served by the hostess which consisted of chicken salad on-cased in ripe tomatoes, coffee, ice-cream and cake.

One of the best fun-making games was that of writing limericks about neighbors. This caused many a hearty laugh and the first prize for this was awarded Dr. Swift, the booby prize going to Dr. Bobitt. The evening proved to be a great success and was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. H. Torrey Buyer Of Residence Property

Mrs. H. Torrey, formerly of 245 South Orange street, and who recently has been residing in the Wilshire district, Los Angeles, has decided that she much prefers Glendale and has purchased the beautiful residence at 228 West Doran street, in what is termed the Wilshire district of Glendale, from Nathan Rigdon, owner and builder. She will take possession immediately.

Mr. Rigdon built the fine residence just east of his own home and it is complete in every detail. Being an expert builder Mr. Rigdon exercised every care in the construction and Mrs. Torrey, after her residence in the Wilshire district of Los Angeles, is confident she has secured a remarkably well finished home in "the city of homes."

F. H. Willett To Take Part In Ceremonies

F. H. Willett of 310 West Lexington Drive, prominent citizen and member of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan, which is the highest rank of the Knights of Pythias lodge, will leave Sunday morning for a two days' outing at Catalina Island. He will accompany about 3000 of his fellow lodge members and will take part in the order's Memorial Day exercises which will take place Monday at the "magic isle."

The ceremonies will be held on the summit of the famous Mt. Avalon and will be carried out by the officers and members of the San Pedro lodge. The principal feature of the occasion will be the initiation of a class of two thousand candidates, upon each of whom will be conferred the rank of knight, which corresponds to the third degree in other similar organizations.

Monday's initiation will be the second largest in the history of the Knights of Pythias, the record having been established at St. Louis in 1910, when the rank was conferred upon three thousand men at a single meeting. Such wonderful feats as these are achievements which have seldom been accomplished by any fraternal body in existence, and the members of the harbor city lodge should be heartily congratulated for their efforts.

Mr. Willett, who is one of the oldest members of the order in southern California, will take an active part in putting on the initiatory work, he having had extensive experience in many previous similar events. In 1908 and 1909, while residing in Davenport, Iowa, Mr. Willett was honored by being elected to the chair of District Deputy Grand Chancellor, and since that time has held several other offices in the lodge.

A man the other day denied that John Bunyan was the author of "The Pilgrim's Progress." Being vehemently contradicted, he thus replied: "No," said he, "I question even if he contributed to the work, for it is impossible that a bunton could contribute to any pilgrim's progress."

Doughboys' Pajamas Are Baltic Underwear

LIBAU, Latvia—Pajamas, intended for the doughboys of the American expeditionary forces, are being worn as underclothing by the women of the poverty-stricken Baltic states. A great supply of these warm garments, left behind by the American army, has been turned over to the poor of this region by the American Red Cross.

These pajamas, with their liberal girths and loose lines, have been converted by the local women into underwear. As a matter of fact, no woman considers herself adequately provided for unless she has at least one pair of the A. E. F. pajamas.

Camisoles and combinations are unpopular. The ladies who wish to express their individuality in dress now wear exquisite flour bag chemises designed by a well-known American flour milling company. The better grade of these chemises have an "eventually, why not now" mark on them.

Silk stockings are unknown. Wool socks, extending only a very few inches above the ankles, exposing a bit of the limbs "a la Parée," are being worn by the majority of the women. The less daring of them, however, prefer to wrap their bare limbs in some sort of material, beginning where the socks end.

Empty comfort bags, made by the American women for the soldiers and sailors during the war, are being made into charming and brightly colored children's dresses. They are also used as handkerchiefs, and stunning effects are derived when used by the women for millinery purposes. American blankets have been made into substantial overcoats both for men and women.

"Durned fine music," said Uncle Josh as he sat listening to the orchestra in a Broadway restaurant, "but I can't seem to make head or tail out of it. Here I've heard that piece 'By Request' six times and 'Extra' twice, and they sound different every time."

A light conscience brings heavy burdens.

Eyes Of Ex-Empress Saw Many Tragedies

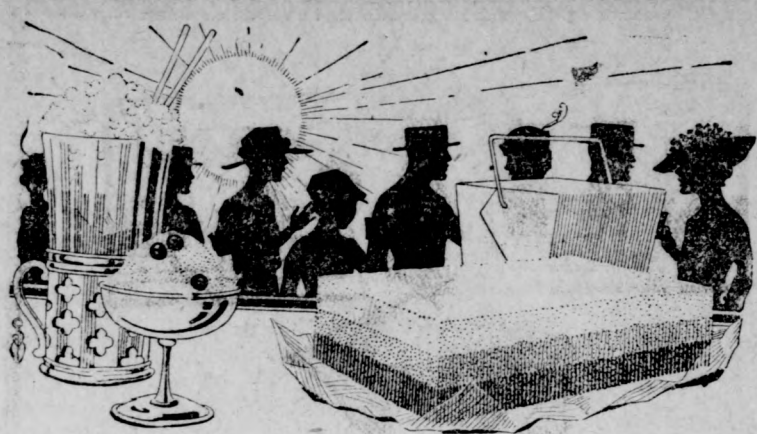

BRUSSELS—Forming the sole remaining link with the reign of the late King Leopold of Belgium, the ex-Empress Charlotte of Mexico attained her eighty-first birthday today.

This winter the aged princess, who was the late King Leopold's sister, was within an ace of paying the last debt of nature, in fact, at the end of January the doctors almost gave up hope of saving her, but the iron will that stamps every member of the Saxe-Coburg family carried her through, as much as medical skill, and she is now tolerably well, although her entourage admit she is likely to pass away at any moment. The ex-empress has probably lived through more royal tragedy and court scandal than any other European princess. Her husband, the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian, was shot by Mexican insurrectionists after a very brief imperial sway, in 1867, when his wife was only 27. She returned, nerve-shattered, to Belgium where her brother, King Leopold's generous provision enabled her to live in comfortable retirement.

Family troubles in the household of the late king swept round her, however. Leopold's illicit loves; the sale of his dead queen's diadem; the lawsuits of his two elder daughters; the wild tales surrounding the death of his son; the death-bed scandal with the royal paramour, etc., all helped to increase the sadness of her life.

Now in her sylvan retreat at Bouchout, the aged ex-empress knows little of how the world wages, and is more or less a prisoner in her own castle with its spacious grounds. She knows that the war is over. At the actual outbreak of hostilities, the news was hidden from the old lady for a long time, a deception which was aided by the fact that of all the royal chateaux in Belgium, her castle alone was respected by the Germans, on account of her German origin.

HUMAN INTEREST IN MARY PICKFORD'S FILM STRONG

NEWEST PICTURE IS BEING SHOWN AT PALACE GRAND; JACKIE COOGAN COMING

A most wholesome entertainment is afforded in Mary Pickford's new film production, "Through the Back Door," which is at the Palace Grand Theatre and will be on exhibition again today.

In this feature, cinemaniacs who like Mary Pickford best in little girl roles will see one of the cutest little girls that ever walked across a freshly scrubbed floor with wet, muddy feet. She makes you laugh and sometimes she makes you want to cry.

Although the plot for "Through the Back Door" is not particularly intricate, the story is so filled with human interest and comic situations bordering on the tragic that there is never a dull moment in the play.

For what is probably the first time in her career we find "America's Sweetheart" involved in a society drama. The backbone of the story rests on a series of incidents occurring in a mansion on Long Island.
Every angle of life in this domicile is shown, from the garage where Mary hides the two waifs she brought with her from the Old Country, to the sumptuous drawing room
where we observe the ultra-smart set of Long Island engaged in the long-established society pastime of bridge playing.

Climax Is Gripping

The picture gets its title from the fact that the daughter of the hostess
is forced, through a peculiar combination of circumstances, to become a servant in the house before finally being recognized by her mother. This recognition comes in a climax as gripping as anything yet filmed, and in it Mary wins your sympathy as only Mary Pickford can.

A striking picture concerning the theory of reincarnation, "Buried Treasure," by F. Britten Austen, will be shown at the Palace Grand Saturday only with Marion Davies in the leading role.

"Peck's Bad Boy," filmed in Glendale with Jackie Coogan as its star, comes for a three-day run the first of the week.

Seeking Profiteer In Agricultural Products

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—
The United States took up the hunt
today for the profiteer in agriculture products.

The most important matter before the joint commission of agriculture inquiry, created by the Lenroot resolution, effective today, was the chasing down of the man who is getting away with the agricultural swag.

A permanent policy for the farming industry is expected to develop from the searches of the commission of ten, created after long conferences between farm organization and congressional leaders to do away with piece meal investigation and emergency legislation. The ten congressmen will investigate:

Causes of difference between prices paid the producer and which is charged to the consumer.

The comparative condition of other industries.

The relation between farm prices
and prices of other commodities.

Banking and financial resources and credits affecting agriculture.

Marketing and transportation facilities.

The ten members of the commission will be selected from the house and senate, five by the speaker and five by the vice president, and according to present plans will organize immediately.

Subcommittees on marketing, finance, transportation and distribution probably will be assigned to investigate those fields.

Perfect Baby Stolen, Is Charge By Woman

NEW YORK—Four-year-old Walter Schneider, proclaimed New York's perfect baby at the milk show
in 1918, was kidnapped by his father, Charles, last July and carried off to Germany, according to Mrs. Josephine Schneider, a writer, who is suing her husband for divorce before Justice
Davis in the supreme court.

The mother declares that Schneider stole the perfect baby from her while she was ill in bed and fled to Cassens, Germany, with $20,000 he had accumulated by judicious investments during the war. There he has renounced his American citizenship,
she says, and is neglecting the child,
although $20,000 is the equivalent of 1,300,000 marks in Germany today.

Justice Davis told Mrs. Schneider
that her divorce would be granted,
but that he could not order the restoration of the child, as his jurisdiction did not extend to a non-citizen living in Germany.

According to Mrs. Schneider's counsel Schneider was found living with a woman not his wife in East Eighty-seventh street, New York City, last June.

Japan's Crown Prince Wishes 'Lasting Peace'

BY WILFRED FLEISCHER
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1921, by United Press)
"PARIS, June 10—"I hope America and Japan may always be found working hand in hand, not only for our mutual benefit, but to insure lasting peace throughout the world," Crown Prince Hirohito of Japan declared today in an interview with the United Press.

The prince upset all tradition when he personally received the correspondent at his temporary residence here.
"I have long cherished a desire to visit the United States," the prince said. "I hope it will be only a deferred pleasure."

Being interviewed was decidedly a new experience for the carefully guarded descendant of the world's oldest dynasty.

He was somewhat restrained at first, but lost the stiffness after the first question and smiled as he delivered his answers through an interpreter. He appeared to be enjoying the meeting and the correspondent enjoyed questioning him.

A uniformed member of the prince suite accompanied me into the presence of the prince. Another attendant stood beside the prince in the big reception room where the interview was held.

As we approached, the prince rigidly erect, his heels together and his hands tight against his trouser seams.
His face was impassive and the dark eyes behind large spectacles gave no hint as to what he thought of the impending questioning.

Prince Hirohito lost his restraint
when the introduction was completed.
He shook hands warmly and smiled broadly, turning to the interpreter
with a remark which was translated to me as:

"His highness is greatly pleased to see you."

"I thank his highness," I returned in French. "Does his highness enjoy traveling?"

"Oui!" broke in the prince, smilingly, without waiting for the translation.

The prince again turned to the interpreter and spoke rapidly. When he had finished speaking he drew himself up again to military stiffness
while the translation was being given me.

"His highness commands me to deliver to you a message to the people of the United States," the interpreter said. He then gave me this formal statement:

"I have long cherished a desire to visit the United States and meet her people. I hope it will be only a deferred pleasure."

"I know full well to what degree justice and freedom are valued in America and that no efforts are ever spared by her people in the cause of humanity."

"I hope Japan and America may always be found working hand in hand, not only to insure lasting peace
throughout the world."

Pest Control Projects Now Under Discussion

RENO, June 10—Harry S. Smith, in charge of pest control work in the bureau of agriculture, has been sent here to investigate the devastation of the alfalfa weevil. The request for the investigation is the result of a suggestion by Governor Stephens.

Large acreage has been reported infested with the pest, and experiments will be conducted with a view to ascertaining the best means of combating the weevil both in Nevada and in California. Approximately 1-600 acres of infested land will be the scene for Smith's work.

Director Hecke, of the department of agriculture, declares that campers are partly responsible for the transfer of the weevil. The insect, he says, crawls into the bedding and equipment of the camper and traveling by automobile moves swiftly from place to place, a few dropping off
"where the country looks promising"
as the director phrases it. He thinks the pest first came from Utah in this manner.

A rigid system of inspection may result from the investigations by Smith. The state may place guards at state entrance points and carefully examine the baggage and equipment of those entering the state, the director declared.

War Nurses To Farm In Far North Country

EDMONTON, Alb.—Four young women from Montreal, all overseas nurses during the war, have gone to Spirit River in the Grande Prairie region of northern Alberta to farm cooperatively. They were spurred to the adventurous enterprise by the success which thousands of former soldiers have made upon the land.
Efforts were made to discourage them from pioneering into the new north country. But their answer was that after their three years' war experience, pioneering has no terrors for them. Two Misses McLean, Miss Ellis and Miss MacNish comprise the quartet.

What they plan to do is to file a homestead of 160 acres each, making a total section, to which will be added another section of free grant land by reason of their overseas service. They will live together and farm their land cooperatively. They propose to do their farm work with their own hands and before leaving Edmonton equipped themselves with overalls, riding breeches, boots and other masculine paraphernalia.

SINN FEIN LEADERS OFFERED AMNESTY BY GOVERNMENT

ENGLAND, WEARY OF WAR, IN HOPE TO END STRIFE BY
TERMS OF AGREEMENT

By CHARLES McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON—Government determination to capture, try and punish Michael Collins, Richard Mulcahy, Richard Burgess and Austin Stack, the quartet of Sinn Fein leaders supposed to be the life of the "war" against England will not be permitted to stand in the way of a settlement with the Irish problem.
The United Press was authoritatively informed today that it necessary the government, despite its previous insistence that it will not grant amnesty to Collins and the others because it is "impossible to shake hands with murder," will grant a pardon to them or to anyone else in the Irish movement?

This statement marked a complete change from the government attitude for the past year, represented the official view following the recent conference of Sir James Craig with President DeValera of the "Irish Republic."

Refrained From Action
Following the conference the government refrained from interference and in its anxiety not to hinder a settlement refused even to discuss it.
It was recognized that DeValera, in seeking the interview, knew Ulster
would not concede anything more than the working of the new home rule act—which Ulster fought for many years and accepted reluctantly
when it recently passed parliament.

That he did so was believed to be a sign Sinn Fein might accept and work the home rule bill, providing as it does an Irish council in which north and south would meet.

That Craig, leader of the Ulster Unionists who hate Sinn Fein and Catholicism and who threatened rebellion against England in 1914 if an attempt were made to pass and enforce a home rule act, accepted DeValera's offer was interpreted to mean, first, that the southern boycott of Ulster goods was hurting and,
second that Ulster wanted to see the end of the Irish "war."

No Guesses Are Made
Craig, following the conference, was expectedly unyielding. DeValeria was unexpectedly conciliatory.
No one in authority has ventured to guess just what it meant below the surface.

The situation was that Ireland,
naturally, is fed up with warfare.
The government is fed up with conducting it at a tremendous cost to the heavily overtaxed people of England. It is hoped by the government that Sinn Fein, knowing the government's determination to crush the rebellion,
is ready to work the act at the first step in what the government has promised will mean an Ireland as free as possible.

The government has held out
many hopes, has practically promised fiscal autonomy, and has invited offers from Sinn Fein.

There's One Drawback
There has been one drawback; the government has insisted it will not grant amnesty to Collins and others on the "blacklist," and Sinn Fein has said it could not and would not desert them. This was removed by the statement that amnesty will be granted if necessary. The government hopes Collins may be killed previously, or that the end of the fight will come, if not by direct negotiations, in a split between moderates and extremists as a result of which Collins and the rest will be killed by Irishmen.

But if necessary amnesty will be granted, and Collins and the others will walk to the gates of Dublin Castle—the only safe way, as if they surrender to police or soldiers they probably would be "killed while attempting to escape"—and give themselves up to the government.

Tubs Come After Nine Long Months Of Delay

Nine months is a long time to wait but the scrub tubs which have only recently arrived at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital are well worth the suspense and expense
as they are of the type now being used in the best hospitals.
There are four of them, one being placed in the surgical dressing room and three in the scrub-room between the two operating rooms. These are all individual tubs and are spaced nine inches apart which affords ample "elbow" room for the users. This is much better than having one tub of a longer type at which several would be obliged to work. These tubs measure thirty inches in length. The knee control is used to turn on the water which comes through a spray.
The babies' bath which arrived shortly after the opening of the new hospital building, has thrown its spray over many a mother's darling and from its substantial appearance will do duty a long time. The bath is of the best grade vitreous china with heavy roll border, and the Leonard control for the water temperature is the insurance policy for the protection of the delicate baby skin.

POLAND DEFENDED BY AMERICAN

Dr. John Finley, Former Commissioner of Education in New York, Discusses Silesia Situation and Justifies Claims of Poles

By JOHN H. FINLEY
Former Commissioner of Education,
State of New York (Reprinted by permission of New York Times)

WARSAW, (via Paris)—When in Berlin, on my way to Warsaw, I heard on every hand unkind words about Poland, "the unruly child of Europe," who was stirring up new trouble in Silesia. Even those who were her best friends were asking "Why can't she behave herself?" Could she not be patient while the allied powers were trying to get their economic house in order? I remembered how I myself felt when I heard in America of the Kiev adventure and the Vilna episode.

When I reached Warsaw I began to hear Poland's story. The one word associated in the world's history with Poland has been "partition." The three powers which divided her territory among themselves—"the three eagles," as they were called—have been crushed, but her new history begins with the inherited fear of that dreaded thing, partition, and suspicion even of her friends.

Poland's Presentation of Case
Here is the story as I have heard it from the highest and best sources in Poland. It is not my own; it is theirs. I have simply written it down as I have heard it.

The story began with Teschen in January, 1919. No one who is familiar with the Teschen episode will deny that the Czechs started it. Masaryk and Benes say that they did it in the interests of efficiency. The Poles, they contend, did not know how to open the coal mines, and the world needed coal at the earliest possible moment. They killed twenty Czechs. Instead of fighting the Czechs, as they were naturally inclined to do, the Poles held off on the advice of the allied representatives in Warsaw. They were told that this action of the Czechs would hurt the latter when it came to the final settlement of the Teschen question. But it did not—the Poles got the worst of it. They got at the same time their first disappointing lesson as to virtue being its own reward.

Then came the Ukraine trouble. In August or September, 1919, the Ukrainians started mixing things up in eastern Galicia. The Poles fought back at first; but again, at the advice of their allied friends in Warsaw, they stopped. What has been the result? That exactly nothing to date has been settled for them in eastern Galicia.

Disappointment Over Danzig
Now comes the Danzig incident. Here the wound is deeper. Poland was promised that she should have Danzig outright. The promise is in writing. Clemenceau agreed to it. It was supposedly all settled. But, no; when the final settlement came, Poland did not get it, and, practically speaking, as she found out last summer, she did not even have access to Danzig as a port. The truth is that the Germans can shut Poland off at any time just as they did last summer. But the climax was capped when the allied high commissioner gave an order preventing the landing of munitions there on the ground that it would disturb public order, despite the fact that the Poles needed ammunition badly at that moment to defend themselves. This Danzig disappointment is something that this confiding child will be a long time in getting over.

This all may seem ancient history. All Poland's grievances, however, are not ancient, even if one calls events two years old ancient. Recall last summer and the bolsheviks. The Poles were never discouraged in their Kiev offensive. Of course, if they had been successful they would have been the brave boys of Europe and would have been hailed as world benefactors in opening the granaries of Europe. Instead of that they lost, and every one cried out against them for having imperialistic ambitions, and the allies made their defeat the excuse for doing practically nothing for them. They did say to the bolsheviks that if they did not stop at the Curzon line the allies would help defend it. The bolsheviks walked right over that line, and the allies still talked while the Poles fought. Then, when they turned around and defeated the bolsheviks the allies told them to stop in their pursuit at this same Curzon line.

Curzon Line Controversy

This line, however, was never drawn as a military line. During the peace conference some of the Poles asked, not for a definite eastern boundary, but for a minimum boundary inside of which it would be safe to start enterprises and rehabilitate estate, etc. This line was originally suggested as the minimum eastern boundary, without prejudice in deciding the later definite line. Then last summer Lloyd George took his stand on the Curzon line as if it had been settled that it was to be the boundary of Poland.

Now, if the Poles go beyond that line they are assumed to have imperialistic ambitions and to be invading Russia. As a matter of fact, the present eastern boundary of Poland, which was settled at Riga without the help of the allies, is far beyond the Curzon line which the allies, their friends, offered them. They have never invaded Russia except for that ridiculous raid of Kiev. The only thing they have ever done is to try to get back some of their own land that Russia years ago took away from them.

As to Vilna? The Poles have played their part so badly there that they will probably lose; whereas, if they had only been a little wiser they might have had not only Vilna, but Lithuania as an ally. Zeligowski gave an imitation of D'Annunzio in Fiume, and, like most imitations, it was even worse than the original.

Silesia Once Promised to Poles

All this leads up to Silesia. This whole Upper Silesia question has been a series of tragedies for the Poles. In the first place "the Big Four" were going to give it to Poland outright. Clemenceau wrote a letter saying that they were to have it. Then something happened, and Lloyd George protested. He sent word to Paderewski, who was then in Paris, trying to protect Poland's interests, that Upper Silesia would not be given outright, but that an immediate plebiscite would be held to decide to whom it should go. Paderewski, of course, objected, but without avail, and the plebiscite was finally determined upon to take place between six and eighteen months after the date.

Thinking that the plebiscite might take place within six months, both sides stirred up everybody. Both thought they must be prepared, and the people of Upper Silesia were made the objects of the most violent propaganda from each side. This went on for more than two years. The Poles are not phlegmatic people. It is easy to imagine the consequent state of their nerves. During that period they endured a great deal.

In the summer of 1919, the Germans started making trouble, and the allies gave the Poles no help. Then the decision of the allies in allowing those born in Silesia but living elsewhere to come back and vote was questionable justice. Many of these absentees so voting had no more intention of ever living in Silesia again than Silesian citizens in America. Naturally the Poles felt aggrieved that absentee voters should be allowed to have any say in the matter. They asked then that the vote of these be kept separate so that one could know what was the vote of the real residents as opposed to those imported for the occasion, but even this was refused them.

March 20, the day for the plebiscite, came, and, in spite of predictions of all kinds of trouble, the election went off perfectly quiet. This was due largely to Adalbert Korfanty, the Polish leader, who rules his people with an iron hand. The Germans were provocative enough, but Korfanty, who is a great figure and is worshipped by his people, kept his crowd in hand.

False Report of Allies' Decision

Then, a few days ago, the word got out that the commission had made its report, and that in it the English and Italians were for giving only an infinitesimal part of Upper Silesia to Poland, and that the French alone had stood out for them. That there was absolutely no truth in the story makes no difference, except to strengthen the suspicion that the Germans started it, with the idea of stirring up the Poles so that they would prejudice their case. At any rate, that is what happened.

Both Germans and Poles have had their secret military organizations in Silesia from the start. The whole region is bristling with arms. When the Poles thought the allies had decided against them they simply went out and took over the government. The allied troops have tried to maintain order, and blood has been shed.

This is briefly the story as I have heard it—the failure of those to whom the Poles looked, as a child to its parents, to keep promises which of course should not have been made if they could not be kept; the consequent and cumulative disappointment; the unfairness of admitting outsiders in making self-determination; two years' tension, and, finally the reported decision that appeared to ignore the result of the plebiscite, a result which, it should be remembered, has been reached wholly un-

Calls Warsaw's Attitude Correct

The Polish government has done all that a coalition government could do. It has forbidden the recruiting of volunteers to take part in the uprising. It has closed the border. Sympathy has been expressed with the feelings of the Upper Silesians, but disapproval of their action. Korfanty was not permitted to resign, but was summarily dismissed from office. But the government is between the devil and the deep sea. Nothing short of flat disapproval and disavowal will satisfy the allies and nothing short of complete condemnation of the course of the allies will satisfy the great mass of the people, who are holding solemn demonstrations in behalf of those who cannot share in the blessings of a united Poland after long years of partition. It is obvious to any outsider, of course that the Poles in Silesia should have awaited the decision of the allies and then made a protest if it seemed unfair. They have acted imprudently and foolishly in the tenseness of their waiting and the ardor of their passion for Poland. As a result there exists one of the most dangerous situations in Europe today—even more alarming than that which the Reichstag was considering when I passed through Berlin, and one which involves with it that most serious of all world problems which I saw as I looked over the edge of Russia.

ALL STAR CAST FOR PICTURIZATION OF STAGE SUCCESS

'THE HEART OF MARYLAND' IS GREAT SCREEN DRAMA AT GLENDALE THEATRE

One of the big pictures of the year was shown at the Glendale theatre yesterday, when Catherine Calvert and an all-star cast were flashed up on the screen in a Tom Terriss production, "The Heart of Maryland." This is a visualization of the famous stage production by David Belasco. The success of the play was phenomenal and it is safe to predict that the screen drama will be even greater than the play.

The film has many advantages over the stage production in that it was made in the exact locale described in the story, on a stage that is nature itself and shows as many scenes as necessary to convey the story. The spoken drama is limited in this respect and depends upon the spoken word to convey ideas that the film visualized in dramatic scenes.

The production is a historic classic and as such should outlive the films of the day. It depicts one of the most interesting and intensely dramatic periods in American history. It handles a critical period in masterly manner.

Love Story Is Intertwined
A clean, sweet love story interwoven in a background of war is a theme bound to appeal to all. Great care and discretion have been exercised in producing the picture. There is just an indication of battle, just enough of the war of the rebellion to set the story and not enough to convey the horrors and unpleasantness of those stirring days.

"The Heart of Maryland" is too well known to review the story, but everyone ought to see it. Add to this super-feature, however, "Bumping Into Broadway," a Harold Lloyd comedy, five acts of amateur vaudeville, ballads by Miss Dorothy Taylor, "Bashful Annabel Lee" by Madame Clement on the great organ and the other usual attractions, and you have the greatest show tonight to be seen for the money. The feature holds over for tomorrow. Be sure and see "The Heart of Maryland."

Government Island Is Too Small For Port?

ALAMEDA—That Government Island, which has been tendered the United States as an air port here, may not be large enough for that purpose, was the opinion of Col. H. H. Arnold, chief of the air division of the United States army, stationed at San Francisco. Colonel Arnold personally flew over the island to get an idea of the facilities there, and also made a personal inspection on land.

Colonel Arnold stated that if the island were to become a large air station it would, in the first place, necessitate the moving of a number of ships which dock there in order to insure good landings. As far as a mail aviation base goes, the matter is negligible, he said, not more than one or two mail planes a day at best landing here. It would not pay to have a special base for such planes he said.

Alameda and Oakland are anxious to locate an aviation base in this district. If further investigation reveals the fact that the government does not feel Government Island is suited, another site may be selected and tendered for this purpose.

Rats Dominate Report Issued About Weather

PASADENA—Mountain rats in this district are seriously imperilling the weather—or at least, reports of the weather.

H. J. Tompkins, hydrographic engineer, found that in his instruments on Mt. Elsie and in San Antonio canyon rats had entered a perpendicular tube of the delicate apparatus and climbed almost a yard to the top, where a pen attachment is located. In prancing over the penholder the rats put the chart out of business.

Tompkins decided that the best way to protect his work, if he couldn't muzzle the rats, was to muzzle the instruments. Hence he has placed a screening over the entrance of the tube. There are twenty-three such instruments in the mountain district adjacent to Pasadena.

Stout Figure Dresses

It is quite a relief to women of stout proportion to be able to come here and pick out a pretty dress that will fit her perfectly. Saves time, trouble and the expense of having them made and besides the styles and lines are the equal of garments designed for her slender sister.

One model of crepe de chine is made with an overskirt trimmed in cut design and is shown in navy and brown at $37.50. Sizes 42½, 44½ and 46½.

Taffeta Dresses in several good "stylish stout" models are moderately priced at $26.50, $29.50, $34.50 and may be had in black, brown, navy and taupe; sizes to 46½.

New models in pretty printed voiles for hot weather wear have just been unpacked and are shown in the new "stylish stout" designs at $13.50, $16.50, $19.50. Very serviceable and very pretty. Sizes 40½ to 46½.

Proper Lighting Will Halt Divorce, Claimed

CHICAGO—When interior lighting has been made perfect divorce will decrease, according to Dr. M. Luckish. Electric lights used in the homes are irritating and fail to produce the soothing effect necessary to happy homes.

Dr. Luckish is director of applied science at the Nela research laboratories in Cleveland and is here for the national electric light association convention.

"The lighting of the homes has much greater effect on the moods of us humans than we think," he said. And he unfolded the scheme of scientists to "paint" with electric coloring the living room. This, he said, will soon be practicable.

"Certainly, moonlight is the traditional 'spoony light,' he said. "As light grows dimmer, the tendency of the human is to converse less. When a family can dine under moonlight or sunset, electricity has furnished a means of peacefully running the gamut of human emotions. There will be fewer divorces."

CHARLIE MURRAY TO BE IN ATTENDANCE AT BIG BENEFIT

PLENTY OF BIG ACTS WILL BE PROVIDED FOR AMERICAN LEGION SHOW JUNE 15

Charlie Murray—the inimitable—he, himself, in person, ahem, is announced as the "introducer" of each and every one of the dozen big numbers to be presented next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Palace Grand theatre here for the benefit of the Glendale Post, No. 127, American Legion, sick fund.

Three big acts already have been announced. And there are nine more on the bill, but just to give a hint as to the versatility, the program will range from grand opera and concert work to such popular numbers as will be presented by Dot Farley, who is widely known for her personality both on the stage and screen.

Tonight this benefit performance will be one of the big things to occupy the time of the members of the American Legion and Commander E. O. Kiefer requests that "every-buddie" who wants to help a "buddie" be present. Initiation and other entertainment is planned.

ONE YEAR IN LONDON, ENGLAND

Being the observations and experiences of Dr. Frederick M. Rossiter, well known in Glendale, who expects to visit France and Switzerland and then return in August or September.

By F. M. ROSSITER, M. D.
Approaching the shores of a foreign land is always attended with feelings and emotions difficult to translate into verbal expression. The excitement aboard a great ocean liner as land appears in the distance is most interesting to observe as well as to feel.

Thus it was just a year ago, early one Friday morning as our good ship appeared off the southwest coast of England. The morning was ideal, the sun came up out of the ocean in all his glory, the air was soft and balmy, there was hardly a ripple on water, it was the setting of spring time. Many passengers were up, leaning on the rail, looking landward. As the green covered hills of England became more and more distinct, presenting a most delightful and restful scene, one could hear now and then a sigh of relief from someone standing near, and often one heard the expression, "Home again," for most of the passengers were English, or rather Britishers. Many had been in business in the States, or in Canada, and were returning to visit the old home again. A cabin mate, after forty-five years in business in Cleveland, was returning for a summer in England.

Anchors in Noted Port
Our good ship dropped anchor in the harbor of Plymouth, the port from which the Pilgrims sailed centuries ago. A lighter came aside the ship and about a third of the passengers disembarked, the other two-thirds lining up at the rail, port holes, and other places of vantage, watching the scene and enjoying the excitement, shouting at those on the lighter, throwing candy, waving their hands, and handkerchiefs, taking Kodak snaps and giving various sorts of advice.

There is a whirl of excitement in the mind, produced by eye and ear, as one steps upon foreign territory. Everything is different, even in a land where English is spoken as "she is spoken." It takes some time to adjust oneself to the new, but old setting.

Everything looks strange, and odd, and peculiarly out of harmony, and out of proportion to what one has been accustomed to see and hear. You have to listen hard to understand and have to speak twice at first to be understood.

At any rate in about two and a half hours everyone had escaped from the customs, and was aboard the waiting train for London. I heard one young man bemoan the fact that he had brought a box of special cigars for his pater, and the duty he had to pay was twice what they cost him.

The trip to London was full of interest. In the first place the train averaged over sixty miles an hour all the way of some two hundred and forty miles. In the second place in all this distance, from the train window, the writer never saw an automobile, not even a "Lizzie," in town, city or on country road. In the third place, while eating my dinner in the "eating saloon," the two elderly English women, who sat directly opposite me, on finishing their meal, took out their cigarette cases, lighted cigarettes and leisurely proceeded to smoke. That was a brand new experience to me, but not new any more, for everywhere in the eating places of London one sees women, young and old smoking cigarettes before, during and after a meal. Fifthly and lastly, that which gave the greatest and most lasting interest was the scene from the car window.

Springtime Had Arrived
It was one grand and glorious moving picture, with a reel two hundred and forty miles long, lasting four hours and fifteen minutes. It did not weary the eye or fatigue the mind. Springtime had fully come, and southwest England was in all her glory. The Plymouth and Devonshire district of England is famous for its natural beauty. The trees had a beautiful fresh green, the ground was covered with bluebells, daisies, buttercups and other flowers. England seemed to be one vast garden, divided into innumerable small gardens of five and ten acre tracts, each surrounded with a green hedge of holly or laurel, all curving, never square; and in this setting of green, here and there were gray brick houses and barns with either red tile roofs or thatched roofs. It is doubtless true that first impressions are more lasting, at any rate this trip to London was most delightful.

London was all smoke and haze. Transferring to another station, I went into the country again some twenty miles and spent ten days on an old English estate of some two hundred and fifty acres, with two large brick manor houses still in use. One mile to the south is a large estate of several hundred acres, belonging to the J. P. Morgan estate. Five miles to the east is St. Albans, where is the second largest cathedral in England, and the former capital of the Romans. A few miles farther is located the little village, and the old house, where Milton wrote the last of Paradise Lost. In another three miles one comes to the old church where the Quakers met in secret in the days of persecution, and in the church grounds are the graves of William Penn, and his children.

There is no end of places in this neighborhood, of historical interest.

Marvelous Bird Chorus
The first morning on awakening very early, my ears were greeted with the most marvelous bird chorus I ever listened to. I have heard it many times since, and could wish for nothing more joyful and delightful to begin the day with in all the days, and time to come.

Two birds have interested me particularly. A peculiar sound came through my windows that first morning, which at first I did not recognize, but finally decided it was a cuckoo. It has just two notes in its song, and after hearing it for a few days one can readily understand that it becomes a monotony. It reminds me of the everlasting pumping oil wells about Brea—some of the pumps very much in need of grease.

The other bird is the English skylark. I have never tired seeing that bird, looking like a speck up in the sky, over a green field, spraying bird song all over the landscape. It is a marvelous singer, singing while flying, and then for minutes at a time it will remain stationary in the air, singing all the time. When its song is over, it drops to earth as straight as a stone would fall, and almost as quickly. No wonder the city Britisher is a lover of the country, never loses an opportunity to spend his week-end away from the city. Motor cars are not used here so commonly as we are accustomed to use them, hence in the evenings and on Sundays one sees hundreds of people on the roads, walking, on bicycle, and on motorcycles. On Saturday afternoon and on Sundays all motor busses going into the country are crowded, and it is almost impossible to get back on account of the crowds. This spring is at least a month later than last spring in many respects.

Little Old London Town

No one city has ever interested me more, nor has fascinated me more than this town, for it is still called a town. Excepting for twenty-five days spent in rest and recreation in Switzerland and France, and for two weeks spent in bed following an operation for acute appendicitis, I have been on the streets of London every day for a full year, and it holds just as much interest to me now as it did the first week. It holds so many things of interest, it is difficult to know what to mention, and what to omit. It affords unlimited opportunity for study and investigation, in any line of scientific investigation in art, music, language, science, whatever one may be interested in.

Here one meets peoples from every part of the British empire, and from all parts of the world. One rubs shoulders with them on the streets, meets them in the class room, sees them in public assemblies. An interesting sight here is to see a black man from the west coast of Africa, or an East Indian walking down the street arm in arm with a white woman. Most any day, in the day time, on the prominent streets of London, as Oxford, Piccadilly, The Strand, etc., one sees men walking the streets with an arm around a woman, or hand in hand. And what one sees in the parks and on the streets at night is still more interesting to one who has lived in Long Beach. If the Long Beach city council were transported to London they would have a very busy time. However, one seldom sees any disorder on the streets. It is the best policed place I ever saw.

Made Up Of Many Towns

While the city of London is such a large place, it may not be generally known, that it is made up of a large number of towns or boroughs, with a street as a dividing line, each with its separate council and town hall. London itself is just one mile square, and is right in the center of all big business.

To be on the streets of London, one would never realize that there had recently been the greatest of all wars. The people look happy, contented, and the shop windows are most interesting, but one does not see a great crowd shopping in the large stores, unless there is a special sale. Prices have dropped some in the last year, and there has been some drop in the price of foods, but I do not see as it has made any difference in what I pay for in the restaurants. Rent is very high and it is difficult to find good places. Until recently milk was twenty cents a quart, cream is seventy-five cents a pint, butter is seventy-five cents a pound, a year ago it was a dollar and a quarter, sugar is eighteen cents, bread is very reasonable, eggs are seventy-two cents a dozen now, apples have been from sixteen to twenty-five cents a pound all the time, grapes seventy-five cents a pound, grapefruit ten to thirty cents apiece, oranges ten to fifteen cents apiece. The grapefruit here largely comes from Cuba and the West Indies, and is very fine, almost as sweet as California oranges. London is very favored in getting fresh fruits the year round from Africa, south of France, Italy, West Indies, and other southern countries. Grapes that sell for a cent a pound in South Africa sell for seventy cents here. A Ford touring car sells here for

ASK GLENDALE BOYS AT ATTEND CAMP AT COLDBROOK

COUNTY Y. M. C. A. SECRETARIES IN CHARGE; RESERVATIONS ARE NOW BEING MADE

Many of the boys from Glendale are planning to take advantage of the opportunity of enjoying a two weeks' camping trip at Camp Pine Flats. This camp is situated four miles from Camp Coldbrook in the north fork of the San Gabriel river and has an elevation of 6000 feet. County and district Y. M. C. A. secretaries, aided by a corps of carefully selected leaders, will have direct supervision of the camp.

A contract has just been let for packing in the supplies, all of which must be brought in on burro back. The program at camp will include athletics, hikes, woodcraft, camp fires, Bible study, swimming and other activities.

Comfort, Care And Welfare
Everything possible will be done for the comfort, care and welfare of the boys while at camp.

This camp is open for four weeks. The first two weeks, June 21 to July 5, will be for the older boys. The younger boys will attend from July 5 to July 10. Not only Y. M. C. A. boys but any boys of the county may make reservations.

Last year over sixty boys attended from Glendale. Accommodations are afforded at camp for 250 boys, 125 at each session.

Those from Glendale wishing to make reservations should get in communication with Rex C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary; C. W. Ingledue or R. P. Kitterman.

Mrs. John Dunn Is Hostess To Visitors

Mrs. John Dunn of 446 West Colorado street entertained as luncheon guests Mrs. James McBryde, Mrs. Ray Galvin, Mrs. Walter Stamps, Mrs. Merle Melvin, and Mrs. Alvin Dunn of Los Angeles. In the afternoon the party visited Thornycroft, taking flowers, magazines and candy for the boys there. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Dunn had as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cass of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dunn, also of Los Angeles. Later in the evening a bridge party was also enjoyed, at which Miss Vera Bayard and Earl Patterson were also guests. First prizes were won by Mrs. Clarence Cass and Earl Patterson, and consolation prizes by Mrs. Alvin Dunn and Clarence Cass. Beautiful bouquets of pink baby rambler roses decorated the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn.

Street Dance To Be Given Saturday Night

A street dance will be given by the American Legion band at the corner of Broadway and Brand boulevard, Saturday night, June 11. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Legion will have several street booths for the sale of soft drinks and candy. The object is to raise money to finance the band during the summer months.

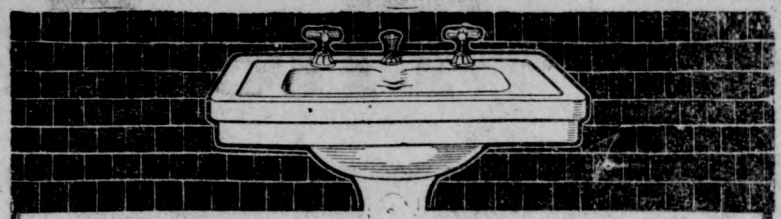

Lot At Palmer And Boynton Is Purchased

The corner lot at Palmer avenue and Boynton streets was sold yesterday through the Charles B. Guthrie agency to William E. and W. E. Scott, recent arrivals here. Mrs. Emma Phelan of Long Beach formerly owned the property. The Scotts plan to build homes for their families.

practically a thousand dollars, and others in proportion. A motorcycle sells for more than a Ford in America. In fact a good motorcycle sells for over eight hundred dollars. Gasoline sells now for seventy cents a gallon, and was ninety a few months ago. Last summer it was $2.50 in France. As a consequence of this price, the small cars, or cars with small engines are much in evidence here. It amuses an American to see a driver shift to low to go around a corner. The motor tax is one pound per horsepower (about four dollars now).

Good Suits Of Wool Clothes

The price of silks, woolen goods, and shoes have come down considerably. There are scores of tailor shops advertising in their windows tailor-made suits for twenty-five to thirty-five dollars, and a man can get the best tailor-made suit all wool, in London for fifty to sixty dollars. Woolen dresses in the same proportion. All cotton goods are still high. To attempt to write about Westminster Abbey, or St. Paul's cathedral, or the British museum, or the British art gallery, or the parks of London, or seeing London from the hurricane deck of a double decked bus, or what the English say about Americans, and what the general undercurrent seems to be, the political situation, and even the "Irish Stew," are all large enough subjects for a single article.

The Crystallization of a Dream

The Preliminary Prospective Drawing of the Glendale Research Hospital

—A year and a half ago the Glendale Research Hospital was merely an idea—a dream—which is now a wonderful reality. All the plans have materialized in a beautiful structure that is indeed a credit to Glendale—and in addition to being an edifice of architectural beauty, can be truly said to be a living thing of service to mankind.

—This hospital is, as was planned, a non-sectarian institution, that extends its helpfulness to all Glendale and vicinity, and is ready to use its complete and modern equipment and staff of trained attaches to help all who seek its aid, to health and happiness.

—The assured success of the Glendale Research Hospital is due in a great measure to over two hundred local stockholders, whose faith in the future of Glendale and knowledge of the need of an institution of this kind, caused them to generously contribute the necessary funds to successfully complete the plans of the incorporators.

Here is just an Idea of the Value of such an Institution as the Glendale Research Hospital, to the People of Glendale and Surrounding Territory

—Since the opening of the hospital a few weeks ago seventy cases have been successfully treated, including eight maternity cases and nearly sixty operations.

—Many physicians in Glendale, Los Angeles and surrounding territory, knowing facilities offered, are bringing their most serious cases to the Glendale Research Hospital, and through their co-operation the hospital has been self-sustaining since the opening day.

Deaf And Dumb Men Traced As Criminals

BERKELEY, June 10.—The deaf and dumb are reputed in popular tradition to become all the more keen in their sense of touch, and this sometimes apparently manifests itself in unusual ways.

In a good many ways a deaf and dumb man cannot function like an ordinary man, but this handicap does not seem to affect his ability to react in an ordinary criminal fashion when he is so inclined.

A number of cases have recently been reported of burglaries and thefts of various sorts by deaf and dumb persons. A deaf and dumb ten-year-old boy was recently captured here after he had broken into the First National bank and had taken several dollars from the Near East Relief fund boxes which he found on the counters. He was seen "shining up" a drain pipe and crawling through a window. The boy, the police said, has previously been in other sorts of trouble. He will be placed in some special school.

San Diego is reported to have been the undoing of several deaf and dumb criminals lately. A deaf and dumb burglar was captured and convicted there. Three deaf and dumb men were thrown off a freight train at Santa Ana recently. A carpenter saw them leaving the train talking with their hands. Later in the evening they stopped at his ranch house on the San Diego highway, and one wrote out on a pad that he wanted some water for his automobile. The man reported the matter to the Santa Ana police, and the three were later arrested in San Diego on a charge of stealing an automobile.

Chief of Police James Patrick of San Diego knows the deaf and dumb language and obtained confessions from them. All three pleaded guilty, and were granted probation. One of them was a cobbler whose trade had become monotonous to him, and who craved to see the world and get a little excitement. He went back to his cobbling business. Probation Officer Paul Wright of Orange county became interested in one of the others, got him a job, and took him into his home until he got started at his trade.

Inability to compete with able-bodied men in many trades and businesses is the most frequent cause assigned by the deaf and dumb when they are taken into custody for stealing.

Immigrants Held In Ships; Live Like Cattle

NEW YORK, June 10.—Jammed in the holds of twelve ships in New York harbor today were thousands of immigrants who must live for weeks like penned up cattle, defenseless against threatening disease.

Feeble old women from Italy, half clad children from Czechoslovakia, refugees from hunger stricken central Europe—all ill kempt and without a bath for months—are packed in ships where they must be held because of the immigration tangle.

Commissioner Fred A. Wallis appealed today to authorities in Washington for immediate assistance. He asked that congress pass an amendment to the new immigration law providing for care of these immigrants.

The congestion has been caused by ship companies who have failed in the race for New York with thousands whom they hoped to push through before the new law restricting immigration to 3 per cent of the resident population of nationalities in the United States went into effect.

With the law only five days old, three nationalities already have overrun their quota. Ships are continuing to arrive, piling up the immigrants, unable to land.

Five thousand who have arrived since June 3 have not been examined. Most of them will be rejected. Meanwhile they are held on ships, where they probably will be for weeks until they arrive back in the port in Europe from which they embarked.

Movie Copyright Law Not Yet In Effect

SACRAMENTO—"The Avenging Spirit" has left the office of Secretary of State Frank Jordan, and gone back home to Los Angeles.

"This is no place for 'Avenging Spirits,'" Jordan wrote. His statement was somewhat in the nature of a rejection slip, for the spirit in question was the name of a movie scenario which had been sent him by an enterprising author.

Hundreds of scenarios monthly have been sent to Jordan under the mistaken impression that Assemblyman Baker's "copyright" bill has gone into effect.

The measure, which has been signed by the governor, does not go into effect until August. It protects scenario writers from unscrupulous motion picture companies. Eventually there will be a "copyright bureau" attached to Jordan's office—"eventually—but not now."

Cerritos Team Beaten, First Time In Season

Regular baseball was temporarily abandoned in the Glendale city schools, according to Athletic Director A. T. Blanford, because boys on both the indoor and outdoor teams could not hit.

That is, one day they would be batting at a slow ball, the next day at the swift ones and their eyes refused to connect the stick and the ball. In Wednesday's indoor games Pacific avenue won from the Cerritos fifth and sixth grade team by a score of 15 to 6, the first defeat of Cerritos this year. This ties the two teams for the city league championship series next week.

Doran street was defeated by Broadway, the score being 21 to 18 and Colorado took Columbus down the line to the tune of 18 to 14. Cerritos avenue's first team lost to the intermediate by 17 to 5, its first defeat coming in the third game of a seven game series.

Housewarming Party Proves Real Surprise

One of the most delightful events of the season was the housewarming and surprise party given at the new home of the Misses Zoa and Zena McDowell of 611 North Isabel street.

About 5:30 o'clock four cars filled with teachers of the Micheltoreno school drove up to the new home and took possession, making it beautiful with flowers and preparing a delicious dinner.

After the dinner had been served the Misses McDowell were initiated into the Clothes Pin club by having to take down the wash, which consisted of a line stretched across the living room and to which was pinned by tiny clothes pins, numerous pieces of kitchen aluminum ware and Pyrex ware.

The members of the club pronounced the home as a very lovely one and expressed their delight in being made one of this merry crowd. At the close of the evening, which was spent in games and music, the friends wished these young ladies success in their new home and hoped that it might be the meeting place of many a happy party.

Roman Catapult In Latin Class Exhibit

Under the direction of Miss Stevens and Miss Ledyard, the Latin classes at the high school have prepared a very unique exhibit which takes one back to the days of the old Roman wars. One of the old long range guns called a Roman catapult was made by two of the boys and is a work of art. One might think by looking at it that it had been used in a war.

"She certainly will," replied the mother, "the first thing in the morning." For every yard of cloth cut by the tailor to cover our nakedness, two yards are cut to uncover our vanity.

'DEAR KATIE' HEARS OF VERDUGO

Woodlands Is Part of Paradise, Says E. C. Hale, and Even Mr. Webster Never Invented Enough Words to Fittingly Describe Attractions of Fine Home Spot of Entire Southland.

Glendale, June 10, 1921.
Dear Katie: For a long time I have been planning on writin' a article about the Verdugo Woodlands, the same bein' part of Glendale. And here it is. Well, yesterday I went down to get a car for to take me there and there was the car just startin' out and I thought as how I could catch it if I run and so I raced down the middle of Broadway, wavin' my hat and yellin' like a Indian at that deaf and dumb motorman. But time, tide and street cars wait for no man, Katie, so I give it up and I come out 2nd best. And then, Katie, there was a guy standin' on the curbin' lookin' at me kinda curious and he asks me was I tryin' to catch that car and that made me mad and I says, naw, I wasn't tryin' to catch it—I was just chasing the darn thing outa town.

Well, finally another car come limpin' into town and I got on and sit down before that lightnin' conductor had a chance to change the record. Well, we got started and away we went askin' over the hills and through the woods.

Decides to Get Off
I told the nonconductor to let me off at Verdugo Woodlands so a half hour later he yelled something with reverse English that sounded like la ogudver alla de savles, and he give me a barb wire smile and I couldn't figure out whether or not he was tryin' to be sociable or was figurin' on throwin' me off the car, so I got off just outa politeness.

So there I was 45 minutes from home and Broadway. Well, then I saw a big tent and a crowd of people standin' around and I asked a man what it was all about and he says it was a real estate office and he says the people was goin' to have a lunch free of gratis and then they was goin' to buy some lots.

Well, I went over and sit under a big shady tree and lingered around awhile like a insurance agent.

Katie, the view that was unfolded to my dark eyes give me a thrill of awe. Sincere lover of nature as I am, to explain the beauty of the Verdugo Woodlands to you, I would have to use more words than Webster ever invented. It is the California Switzerland with its memories of Spain. It made me wish that I could live there in the vineyards of olden times gone by.

Here one seems to rest in the very hollow of the hand of nature and enjoy the bounties of her lavished gifts. Where the sunsets can be viewed in all their glory. The natural woodlands, the cold sparkling mountain streams that laugh and splash and murmur sweet nothings, the fern towled canons and the ocean breezes filtered thru California sunshine, whisperin' thru the oaks and sycamores and alders.

Beyond Wildest Dreams
It was a scene far beyond my wildest dreams and there it is a 1000 feet above the sea's level. It is only nine miles from Los Angeles, but it is a million miles from Lard Lake, Wisconsin.

Katie, I could use the superlative till you might think I was due for a padded cell and still, as for tellin' the truth I could make Geo. Washington look like the champion fibber of his day. Sometime when I got a few minutes to spare, I'll write a book about Selves de Verdugo.

Well, at last a man came and sit down with me and he wanted to know was I goin' to buy a lot. I guess he was one of them real estate clerks.

Well, I says as how all I got is $42 in the bank and that wouldn't buy the square foot of earth which I was sittin' on and all the real estate I got or expect to have is stuck on my elbows and the back of my neck.

Well, he got disgusted at that I guess, cause I heard him say, Oh, Henry, and he went away and left me alone again.

Then, Katie, I went over and hung around the free lunch counter for a while and I saw the maids puttin' plates under beans and spaghetti and a nice pleasant gentleman come and asked me to dine with em. So I did and I had a nice, dainty Spanish lunch. For desert we had a speech by Mr. R. D. Horton and Katie, that man knows more about speeches than Dempsey knows about fightin'.

He asked himself a lotta questions and give answers to 'em in a way that would of made Tom Edison hide his face in envy.

Gives Astonishing Figures

He give facts and figures on Southern California in general includin' Hollywood that would of astonished the natives. His arguments and reasons for predictin' a great future for the Verdugo Woodlands made Aladdin's lamp look like a tallow candle. Everything he said includin' some things I thought of afterwards was Truth with a capital T.

I only wish that Mr. Horton could talk loud enough and could stand on the peak of Mt. Lowe and make that speech over again to the whole U. S. from Phoenix to New Jersey. It would be the call of the Golden West to all our old friends back home and would bring them helter skelter, I know, to the shores of the sun kissed sea. Ain't it so, Katie.

So as we sit there and listened to him under that great canopy of turquoise sky and the cool breeze blowin', it all seemed like a fairy tale. And I honestly believe as how if I'd had a million dollars along with me that I would of bought real estate in the Verdugo Woodlands as a investment to the extent that I would of had to walk home for lack of car fare. In the crowd of people there, Katie, there was quite a lot that was just visitin' from the east, but after Mr. Horton finished his speech they one and all looked like they was ready to throw their return tickets in the ash can. That's all for this time, Katie, but let us hope that some day the Verdugo Woodlands which the same is part of Glendale, is goin' to include amidst its ideal homes a private domicile for you and

Yours truly,
E. C. HALE.

W. N. Bott Questions Principles Of League

W. N. Bott requests The Evening News to publish the following open letter:

To the Good Government League of Glendale: Fellow Citizens—When I read your name in The Evening News I thought: "That sounds good. The people who support that organization surely must stand for law and order, and for constructive civic activities that every red-blooded citizen can endorse."

But reading over your questionnaire the conviction is borne in upon me that you are not constructive in your purpose, but destructive.

It appears you are endeavoring to knock something down that has not been set up and I have failed to find the man that proposes to set something up.

You seem to be making a plea for liberty, but in reality it is license you are pleading for.

Look again at your declaration of principles and take note of the probability that if our candidates are big enough for the job they aspire to, they will not take your questions seriously. It would naturally be below a becoming dignity.

I, therefore, as one interested in the civic betterment, ask you to either reconstruct your declaration of principles or change your name.

Yours for the highest good of our matchless city,

W. N. BOTT.

Sea Pigeons Appearing In Flocks, Hiding Sun

SANTA CRUZ—Millions of sea pigeons have made their appearance here after an absence of four years, and at times are so thick they obscure the sun.

The pigeons are the bane of those who own ranches near the coast because of the damage they do to crops. "Gunmen" of the more peaceable sort are accordingly popular. Three to five dollars a day is offered for bagging the pests, all ammunition supplied.

Church's Bible Class To Meet In City Hall

On motion of Trustee Robinson, seconded by Trustee Bartlett, the Board of City Trustees last night unanimously granted permission to the First Presbyterian church to use the trustees' chambers Sunday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock for meetings by the men's bible class.

Application for the use of the chambers was made by W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the church, who stated that the congregation has under way plans for a new building, the various departments of the church have outgrown the present quarters and efforts to find a temporary location for the men's bible class have proved a failure.

"We make this application," said Rev. Edmonds, "in hope it will be favorably acted upon, for we really are at a loss to find suitable quarters for our fast-growing class. It occurred to us that the city might permit the use of the trustees' chambers each Sunday morning until we are permanently settled. We will gladly meet any expense that may be attached to the granting and carrying out of the request and see to it that the room is left in the condition we find it."

"I am willing to vote in favor of the request provided the trustees are invited to attend the class," declared Trustee Robinson. He then made the motion that permission to use the chambers be given the church.

Arithmetics Are Being Dispatched To Schools

SACRAMENTO—More joy for the school kids.

The state printing plant, under the direction of deputy State Printer Dan Sullivan, has just completed the printing of 405,000 volumes of arithmetics. They are being shipped out to all counties.

The arithmetics composing this issue have been printed for three different grades.

CITY BOARD ORDERS REPAIRS ON FIRE TRUCK STOPPED

USELESS TO ATTEMPT FURTHER EXPERIMENTS, IS VERDICT REACHED BY TRUSTEES

No more money will be expended by the city at present in an effort to put fire truck No. 2 into condition to give efficient service. This was the decision of the board of trustees last night following the reading of a report submitted by T. W. Watson, city manager, who declined to recommend that additional repairs be made. His report follows in full:

"Pursuant to your instructions of May 5 that Roy Hinchcliff be employed to repair fire truck No. 2 at a cost not to exceed $250, Mr. Hinchcliff was employed to make such repairs, the cost of which was $258.50. Upon the completion of these repairs Mr. Hinchcliff recommended that a new fan drive be installed, estimating the cost at $60 for which we issued order. The cost of this installation was $60.50 making a total expenditure of $333.80. I understand that the machine was given several tests upon the completion of these repairs and returned to Fire Chief Lankford.

"After examining the machine as returned, Fire Chief Lankford reported under date of May 25 as follows:

"He found it necessary to make some minor repairs which were taken care of at the station but that he found the machine in no condition to be placed in service owing to the following:

"In repairing the fan it was arranged to drive with a chain.

"The chain drags on the timing gear case and it is only a matter of a short time when this chain will wear a hole in the timing gear case which will cause trouble by losing of oil.

"It was also found that the drive shaft was sprung out of line and it is very uncertain as to how long the machine will run in this condition.

"Mr. Lankford further reported that the machine as returned to him was in no condition to be run and requested to be advised as to what should be done in regard to it.

"I instructed Mr. Lankford that until he had received further orders to keep this truck at station No. 1 and only use it in case of emergency.

"As to the cost of renewing pump drive shaft, overhauling pump and repairing generator, we have received estimates of the cost of this from two reliable sources, one of which estimates the cost to be from $300 to $400 based on labor at $1.50 per hour and cost of material and the other estimate is from $325 to $375 basing labor at $1.25 per hour plus actual cost of material and new parts.

"In view of the general condition of this apparatus as herein set forth and as set forth in our reports to your board on May 5 and May 12, I would not recommend that these additional repairs be made. I would recommend that the machine be held in reserve only to be used in case of emergency until the new apparatus purchased by your board from the American La France company has been delivered, leaving the matter as to what shall finally be done with this apparatus to be determined later."

will mean the great ingathering of folks who are loyal to Christ. "It is fine to have a beautiful building, but we must remember that it is not the building that makes the church, but the people in the church. And in order to make the Congregational church what it should be, everyone must work together for the best interests," he said.

C. B. Guthrie Enthusiastic
The next speaker was Charles B. Guthrie. His talk was certainly an enthusiastic one, and he set before the people the plan for raising this money, which was to appoint 20 teams, each one to have a captain. Each team was given the amount of $3,000 to raise. Mr. Guthrie's talk was highly complimented as he was wholly unprepared, but nevertheless he set before the people this plan in such a way that it could not be misunderstood.

Mrs. F. D. Wilson Is Dead In Auto Crash

A dispatch from Portland states that a woman thought to be Mrs. F. D. Wilson of Glendale was killed instantly and her husband was badly injured when their automobile plunged through a bridge railing and ran off the Columbia highway at Bridal Veil, Oregon, late yesterday. The man became unconscious soon after being rescued from the wreckage.

Identification of the couple was made through the automobile license, but the city directory does not give any information of them nor does the local automobile office have any record of them.

Pacific P.-T. A. In Important Gathering

The regular meeting of the Pacific Avenue P.-T. A. was held Thursday, June 9 at 2:15 p. m. in Mrs. Stone's room, with Mrs. P. O. Lucas, the president, presiding. After the flag salute led by Mrs. Tuttle, "America" was sung.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read. Mrs. Harold Adams, the historian, gave a condensed report of all the chairmen of the different departments for the year. The membership was raised to 543 members and much work was accomplished. The school received special mention in the national convention at Washington, D. C.

The Federation Conference banquet for today was announced as also was the Mutual Benefit Reading circle picnic, Wednesday, June 15, at La Ramada Park.

Mrs. Lucas presented the new officers for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. Rosenberg; vice president, Mrs. Wm. Farlander; secretary, Mrs. Grover Adams; treasurer, Mrs. George Moore; historian, Mrs. Ross Russell; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. D. Tronsier.

Mrs. Lucas, as retiring president, was presented with a beautiful basket of large canterbury bells, blue and pink carnations, sweet peas and baby's breath, intertwined with ferns. It was accompanied by a little framed motto, "Happiness."

Miss Doris Packer gave a one-act play, "What Every Woman Wants," in her most charming manner.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, of the Christian church, addressed the ladies on "The Responsibility of Parents." He gave much food for thought and said it was the great task of school, church and kindred associations to develop the personality of the child.

"That the child is most impressionable between the ages of 2 and 6 and that we parents should strive to live in the hearts of people after we die," he said.

Mrs. John Cotton accompanied by her daughter on the piano sang "Gypsy Trail," followed by an encore.

After a rising vote of thanks to the entertainers, all adjourned to the court and were served punch and dainty cakes by the teachers.

MINUTES OF CITY TRUSTEES

The proceedings of the Board of City Trustees in session at the city hall last night, as taken from the official minutes compiled by J. C. Sherer, city clerk, are as follows:

The board assembled at 8 o'clock last evening; all members present. Minutes of the regular meeting of June 2, 1921, and of the adjourned meeting of June 6, 1921, were read and approved.

To Use Council Chamber

Rev. W. E. Edmonds appeared before the board stating that on account of the crowded conditions at the Presbyterian church pending the erection of their new building, the church is compelled to seek additional accommodations outside their own premises; he further requested that the board of trustees grant a permit to the Men's class of the Glendale Presbyterian church to use the council chamber temporarily, on Sunday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock. On motion of Trustee Robinson permit was granted, all voting aye.

Permit Granted Mrs. Tarling

Mrs. A. V. Tarling of 147 South Belmont street in a communication to the board made application for permission to continue to use her residence at the above address as a home for a limited number of aged people and semi-invalids. The application was accompanied by a number of recommendations from different physicians and from residents in the neighborhood and also by a statement from the health officer, stating that he knew of no objection under present conditions to the granting of the application. Communication was ordered to be filed and on motion of Trustee Henry the permit was granted with the understanding that no patients affected with tuberculosis or mental disorders should be taken.

Lights on San Fernando Road

Mr. Fram addressed the board calling attention to the needs existing for more lights on San Fernando road and the matter was on motion of Trustee Henry referred to the city manager to investigate and report.

Application for Kennel License

An application made by W. H. H. Knox for a dog kennel license at 500 East Colorado street was on motion of Trustee Henry referred to the city manager.

Permit for Rest Home

Application was presented from Villa Shaw asking for permission to continue to keep at her residence, 400 Palm drive, a limited number of old ladies and semi-invalids. Referred to health officer.

Permit to Do Street Work

Peter L. Ferry made application for permit to do temporary filling of the street on Wilson and Salem streets in the Edwards and Wilder tract. Referred to the street superintendent.

Permit to Sell Milk

James C. Leitch of 612 East Palmer avenue made application for a permit to sell milk, which being approved by the milk inspector was granted.

Protest Against Public Garage

A protest was presented signed by George C. James and fourteen other residents of West Broadway, protesting against granting a permit to erect and maintain a public garage at the corner of West Broadway and Pacific avenue. Ordered to be filed, as at present no such application is before the board.

Automobile Passenger Service

W. L. Kynce applied for a permit to carry on the business of transporting passengers for hire, which being approved by the city marshal, was granted.

At Election of June 28

The city clerk reported that the following persons had filed their petitions and are entitled to have their names printed upon the ballot for election on June 28, next:

Demands

The demands were presented and referred to the finance committee. The finance committee reported back the following demands approved and on motion of Trustee Robinson warrants were ordered to be issued in payment of the same by the following roll call:

Ayes, Bartlett, Henry, Lapham, Robinson, Stephenson. Noes, none.

Report From Public Works

Report was presented from the superintendent of buildings, showing total receipts from permits in that department for the month of May, amounting to $1,334.20, value of building permits issued, $453,095.00. Ordered to be filed.

Report Of City Treasurer

The city treasurer's report for the month of May was referred to the finance committee.

Report On Bids For Poles

The city manager made a report on the bids previously submitted to him for supplying the public service department with poles and recommended the acceptance of the bid of the Niedermeyer-Martin Lumber Co., as the lowest and best bid received. On motion of Trustee Robinson recommendation of the city manager was approved and contract ordered to be entered into in accordance with the same. Roll call vote, all voting aye.

Applications Granted

The city manager recommended that the application of Wm. H. Hooper to install additional gasoline pump and 1000 gallon storage tank at 222 East Broadway; also application of W. R. Graham to install and maintain automobile repair shop at 308 East Colorado street and application of Anthony W. Crumb for installation of storage tank at south-west corner of Colorado street, be granted and on motion of Trustee Robinson recommendations of the city manager were approved and permits granted.

Statement To Voters

The city manager presented to the board for its approval a statement prepared by him addressed to the voters and taxpayers of the city of Glendale setting forth the necessity for warehouse, garage and other buildings and material yard proposed to be constructed and acquired from the proceeds of the $26,000 bond issue, should the same be authorized on the 28th inst. Motion of Trustee Henry, the board approved the statement as presented and copies of the same were ordered to be printed, all voting aye.

Widening Of Brand Boulevard
The city manager presented a statement in regard to the estimated expense of two different propositions for the widening of Brand boulevard at San Fernando road. Communication was ordered to be filed and referred to the committee of the whole.

For Water Pipe

In a communication from the city manager it was recommended that the sum of $5000 be appropriated from the proceeds of the $26,000 bond issue as revolving fund to cover the cost of the pipe and fittings required for the laying of certain lines of 4 inch pipe. Referred to the committee of the whole.

Fire Truck No. 2

The city manager submitted a report in regard to repairs on fire truck No. 2, stating that it will be necessary to make further repairs on the pump and the outfit in general before its condition will be satisfactory. But in view of the condition of the apparatus, he does not recommend any further expenditure at present. He recommends that the machine be held in reserve, only to be used in case of emergency. Ordered to be filed.

Report Of Health Officer

The health officer presented a report on the condition of sanitariums and rest homes in the city, which contained no recommendations but stated that it is the purpose of the health department to make frequent inspections of these places and that reports will be made promptly to the board. Ordered to be filed.

Engineer Of Public Service

The engineer of the public service department presented a statement as to the progress of work done by Peter L. Ferry on the Verdugo Road reservoir; by Bannister & Day on Vine avenue reservoir, and by the Los Angeles Manufacturing company in laying water pipe on Glendale avenue. Ordered to be filed.

Walk On Pacific Avenue

Mr. Anderson, owner of property on Pacific avenue, upon which the claim is made that the sidewalk is located within the lines of his lot, appeared before the board expressing his desire to have the matter decided. The city manager stated that he is waiting to hear from former Engineer Lynch who located the sidewalk and expects to have his report before the next meeting of the board.

Reports Of City Attorney

The city attorney reported the result of the case against the motor-man of the Pacific Electric car that caused the accident at the crossing of Brand boulevard and Los Feliz Road, to the effect that he had been found guilty of exceeding the speed limit and had been fined $20 by the court. On motion of the order previously given the city attorney instructing him to bring suit against the Southern Pacific company under ordinance No. 400, was rescinded.

The city attorney reported that the city has been sued by Gai & Campanelli for alleged damages in sending storm water across the plaintiff's property at the western extremity of Colorado street. On motion of Trustee Henry the city attorney was instructed to enter a defense in the case as to the defendants.

The city attorney was granted a permit to be absent from the next regular meeting of the board.

The city attorney presented a communication from the Southern Pacific Railway company in regard to the crossing over Gardena avenue in effect offering to give the right of way for street crossing provided the city assume the cost of the improvement. The matter was referred to the city manager to investigate and present an estimate as to the cost.

Ordinance Changing Grade

An ordinance previously presented to the board was on motion of Trustee Henry, adopted as Ordinance No. 448, changing and establishing the grade of a portion of Brand boulevard by the following roll call: Ayes, Bartlett, Henry, Lapham, Robinson, Stephenson. Noes, none.

Map Of Tract No. 3632

On motion of Trustee Bartlett a map of Tract No. 3632 was adopted by Resolution No. 1206 by the following roll call: Ayes, Bartlett, Henry, Lapham, Robinson, Stephenson. Noes, none.

Assembly Bill No. 1122

Trustee Lapham called attention of the board to the passage of and adoption of assembly bill No. 1122, and the city attorney was instructed to secure a copy of the same.

Miss Gregg Bride At Pretty Home Wedding

A very pretty home wedding took place yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence Gregg, 240 North Central avenue, when their daughter, Rebecca Eads Gregg, was married to Albert Dana Burket, as told in last night's Evening News.

The home was prettily decorated in pink and white carnations and ferns. The bride's dress was of real lace over white organdie, the foundation of which was white satin. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and maiden-hair fern, and came into the room on the arm of her father, who gave her away in marriage. The couple stood before a bank of greenery and white carnations and the ceremony was performed by Rev. B. Dudley Snuden of Pasadena. Dr. Paul Wisner played several selections on the cello, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Champlain. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present.

A reception followed at which ice-cream and cake were served. The

Mrs. F. Salmacia Gives Party For Miss Mary

Mrs. F. Salmacia of 361 West California street entertained with a party yesterday afternoon in celebration of the first birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mary Margaret. Cecil Bruner roses were used as decorations in the living rooms, as well as forming the centerpiece on the dining table. Instead of a large birthday cake, there were tiny individual birthday cakes with a lighted candle on each for the little guests. The little tots were quite delighted when ice cream cones were served.

Guests present, all of whom were accompanied by their mothers, were Peggy Clark, Betty Clark, Sonny Clark, Jane Brennan, John Brennan, Regina MacTauliff, Dorothy Barretta, Frae Rohr, Margaret Rita Smith, Betty Jane Boothby, Mary Elizabeth Patch, Rosemary LeSage, Billy Daze and Mary Margaret Salmacia. The place cards were attached to little dolls.

The couple then left for a short wedding trip. They will be at home to their friends at El Segundo, where Mr. Burket is employed by the Standard Oil company.

Children in Contest to Secure Attendance

Considerable interest is being taken by the children who attend the story hour at the library every Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the contest between the boys and girls to see which side will have the larger number present throughout the summer. At the end of the contest the winning side will be guests at a celebration, the character of which will be announced later. Miss Leone Shattuck, who has charge of the story hour, has chosen "The White Pigeon" and "The Three Wishes" as the stories for this Saturday.

New books which will also be released tomorrow in the young folk's department include the following: "From Chevrons to Shoulder Straps," from Boy Stories of the Army series, by Florence Kimball Russell.

"Born to the Blue," also of this series.

"In West Point Gray," same series.

"Sea Scouts Afloat," by Frederick Harrison.

"Camping and Woodcraft," by Kephart.

"Our Backdoor Neighbors," by Frank C. Pellett.

The following volumes have been donated and will also be released Saturday:

"On Many Seas," by Williams.

"Sailing the Seas," the log of Tom Darke, by James Baldwin and W. W. Livengood.

"Patricia," by Emilia Elliott.

"Dear Enemy," by Jean Webster, author of Daddy Long Legs.

"Red Cross Stories for Children," by Georgene Faulkner.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Are Hosts To Friends

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sullivan of 711 South Central avenue entertained at their home on Wednesday night in honor of their guests Mrs. Jennie Olds and son, Earl, and wife, from their home town, Olean, New York. Mrs. Olds will make her home in Glendale.

The affair was also in honor of Mrs. and Mrs. Sullivan's son, Richard, it being his birthday. He was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. During the course of the evening refreshments were served. Everyone had a very enjoyable time. There were about thirty guests present.

"MARY'S MILLIONS" STAGED BY

and announces the early arrival of Mary Manners, who has been on a visit to New York with her aunt, Mrs. Jane Stoneman. The characters of Mrs. Mudge, Mary Manners and Mrs. Stoneman were represented by Ida Wilbur, Millicent Alvord and Louise Wimmer, respectively.

Pretty Betty Barlowe, the beauty of the town and a chum of the heroine, then enters the store just before the arrival of Miss Manners, her aunt, and their newly acquired New York friends, Count Victor de Selles and his sister, Countess Lola de Selles. The part of Betty Barlowe was taken by Myra Johns, that of the count by Wilbur Johns, and of the countess by Marguerite Mandaville.

Becomes Infatuated
Mary at once becomes infatuated with Jack Henderson, whom she hasn't seen since childhood, and who also is enamored by her. Mary's Aunt Jane, however, is determined that her niece shall have a title, and in spite of the protests of her honked husband, Ezra Stoneman (Stanley Walker) she defiantly announces that Mary is engaged to marry the count.

The second act was supposed to take place at the Strawberry festival on the village green and opened with "Constable" Boggs directing the town choir in an exceedingly humorous rehearsal. This little scene was in itself worth the price of admission and held the audience in laughter fully five minutes.

In a cleverly arranged manner the play produces several interesting complications and misunderstandings in which Mary's $10,000 string of pearls mysteriously disappears, the theft of which is accused of Jack Henderson by the count. Through the conniving of the count and countess the pearls are found in possession of young Henderson, who is arrested and held in custody until the constable finds the count guilty after a skillful third degree examination.

At the close of the play some of Mary's money is returned from the scheming French "nobility," the count and countess are thrown out of town, and last but not least, Ezra Stoneman suddenly rises up and assumes power of his household by informing his wife that "Mary will marry who she darn pleases."

Although the entire cast was extraordinarily a gifted and talented one special mention should be given Thomas McNary for his excellent work. As the constable his acting was beyond reproach and when it came to speaking the small town dialect of the eastern part of the United States he was "there."

Millicent Alvord was all that could be expected of any leading lady, her sweet disposition and self-confident manner being manifested throughout the play. Marguerite Mandaville, as the French "vamp" and schemer, made a big hit with her perfect foreign accent and pretty ways. In fact it would be necessary to name the whole cast if one were to attempt to pick out the individual stars.

The play, which is the annual big entertainment given by the graduating class, is for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expenses of the publishing of the school's yearly book, the "Stylus." The second and last performance will take place tonight at the high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock, and the general public is invited to attend.

Miss Helen Campbell Is Hostess To Guild

St. Mark's Guild held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Helen Campbell, 718 East Harvard street. Reports were made concerning the returns from the bazaar and so far they have over $200 and all bills are paid and they have more to come in.

It was voted that a picnic be held on June 22 at Brookside park. The Sunday school of St. Mark's will also have their picnic at that time so they are planning on consolidating and having them at the same time.

Mrs. A. C. McIntyre, mother of the hostess, has been an invalid for some time, and she greatly enjoyed the meeting held at her home.

About 4 o'clock refreshments were served. There were about twenty-five ladies present, including Mrs. Theo. Hobbrook, president; Mrs. Mortimer Baker, vice-president; Mrs. R. H. Downing, secretary; Mrs. S. Card, Mrs. F. England, Mrs. E. H. Parker, Mrs. L. W. Bosserman, Mrs. Eleanor Squires, Mrs. John Trotter, Miss Ellen Williams, Mrs. C. L. Hill, Mrs. Speck, Mrs. R. H. Wells, Mrs. J. L. Macomber, Mrs. C. Russ, Mrs. J. B. Chapman, Mrs. B. J. Smith, Mrs. H. L. Jenkins, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. P. E. Cory, Mrs. F. T. Howland, Mrs. F. W. Parr, Mrs. H. W. Salsbery, Mrs. H. W. Hopkins, Mrs. A. C. McIntyre, and the hostess, Miss Helen Campbell.

TELLS WHY $26,000 IS NEEDED
TO PROVIDE PROTECTION FOR CITY MATERIALS

house near the city hall. The upkeep and repairs are taken care of as best they can be under such circumstances.

City in Need of Garage
It would seem that after reading the foregoing any taxpayer and citizen of Glendale will say at once that the city needs a garage in which to house and care for these machines. A part of this $26,000 bond issue is proposed to be used for this purpose. It will require the purchase of one lot 50 by 150 and the building thereon of a garage that will cover practically the entire lot. This will cost approximately $7,000 including the purchase of the lot.

The picture on the front page of this report sets forth the twenty-one motor vehicles of Glendale assembled on a vacant lot at the rear of the city hall. You will readily see from the picture that it will require at least one ordinary building lot on which to house these machines.

In addition to motor vehicles as set forth above the city uses in the division of street maintenance a large amount of apparatus and heavy tools, also graders, scrapers, wagons, teams, etc. At the present time these are housed in temporary buildings located on rented property, the lease on which will expire shortly. It is quite essential that this property also be properly housed and taken care of and that the employees who operate this division have a headquarters from which to carry on their activities. This will require a site of at least two fifty foot lots and suitable buildings and sheds erected thereon consisting of stable, sheds for wagons, implements and tools, and yards for material. This will cost approximately $6,000.

Storage Quarters Required

The city finds it necessary to keep on hand from $15,000 to $25,000 worth of materials and supplies that are needed in the various divisions of city service. This consists largely of materials that are used in the construction and maintenance of the water and light systems, although considerable material is also needed in the public works department and for general office supplies. No adequate provision has been made to store this material. It is now taken care of at a great disadvantage on account of there not being room in the present small warehouse or upon the small lot adjacent thereto that is used in connection therewith to store it so that it may be readily obtained when required.

In order to properly store this material and these supplies it will be necessary to have a fireproof building, the dimensions of which will be approximately 30 by 70 feet, built so that it could be enlarged as needed; and in connection therewith material yards for storing heavy materials that do not require to be kept in a building. This will require at least three fifty foot lots. The approximate cost of this building and three lots will be $13,000.

Location of Buildings

These proposed buildings and material yards are to be located on the six lots immediately north of the city hall as set forth hereon on diagram. These lots will cost approximately $10,000. Options have not been secured but inquiry has been made of the owners as to the price these lots are being held at and we are confident that they can be purchased at about the above figure. From investigations that have been made we are confident that the owners of this property are quite willing to sell it to the city at a reasonable price. If for any reason, however, any portion of it should be held for a figure above the market value thereof the city has ample power to condemn the property at a price fixed by appraisement. This location has been chosen by reason of the fact that it is adjoining the present city offices and is also adjoining the electrical substation from which the water and light plants are operated. This will permit of the most economical operation of the city service by reason of the fact that operative headquarters of all the several divisions and the supplies and equipment necessary therefor will be located close together and near the general offices.

The accompanying diagram sets forth the general arrangement of the proposed buildings and material yards. This is somewhat tentative, however, and subject to whatever changes or additions may be found advisable when detailed plans are prepared.

The proposition to authorize $26,000 of Glendale municipal bonds for purposes outlined above is submitted with the thought that the voters and taxpayers of Glendale will consider it as a business proposition and that their good business judgment will lead them to authorize these bonds on that basis.

Respectfully submitted,
BOARD OF TRUSTEES, CITY OF GLENDALE, CALIF.

Police To Put Stop To Discarding Papers

Following a statement made by Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the Board of City Trustees, at the meeting last night, the police department, on motion of Trustee Robinson, was instructed to see to it that newsboys receiving Los Angeles newspapers at the corner of Brand boulevard and Los Feliz Road immediately cease the practice of permitting extra papers to remain on the streets and sidewalks to be carried into yards by the wind.

"I have been paying particular attention to the matter of waste papers being permitted to 'ride the wind' at Brand and Los Feliz," said President Stephenson, "and the practice engaged in by some newspaper carriers boys must stop. Bundles of Los Angeles newspapers are delivered to the corner by the railway car and, evidently, the boys are given extra papers, for soon the streets are a mass of waste paper. Why, the papers have been carried by the wind as far as Cypress. The people are trying to keep their places looking neat and clean and it is a shame the district mentioned is allowed to become filled with wind-torn and dirty papers."

Trustee Henry declared that the same conditions prevailed at Maple and Park. Finally Trustee Robinson, seconded by Trustee Lapham, made the motion that police action be taken to stop the carelessness of the newspaper carriers.

"I feel sure that with proper warning the practice will cease," commented President Stephenson, as the motion was unanimously adopted.

Want P. E. Wigwag At Los Feliz And Brand

Installation of a wig-wag protection at the Pacific Electric crossing at Brand and Los Feliz is being sought by the Board of City Trustees.

Discussion was had at the board's meeting last night and the police department was instructed to make a count of traffic in that section and report so that T. W. Watson, city manager, might take up the matter with the railway officials.

"The suggestion is a good one. We should have a wig-wag there," commented Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the board. "The traffic is steadily increasing and the time has come when we are well within our rights in urging the company to grant the necessary protection to the public."

Shortly before noon today City Manager Watson was in telephonic communication with W. C. White of the Pacific Electric and was informed that the company would at once install an automatic protection device at the corner. The company, stated Mr. White, had made a check of traffic and found the protection necessary.
